

Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You

Q: What is the mind?

A: The mind is a bundle of toxic thoughts. Thoughts of fear, worry, stress, anxiety, regret, shame and guilt. When all these toxic thoughts get together, the mind is built. By itself, the mind has no physical existence. But is there any doubt that the mind exists? There is no doubt. The best way to understand the mind is to compare a human being to a computer. A computer has hardware and software. Without the software, the hardware cannot work. The mind is the software that is loaded into the human computer.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 2: What Is The Mind? | Page 10–11

Q: Has anyone ever seen the mind?

A: We all talk of the mind. 'My mind is troubling me! My mind is so afraid or worried.' It appears to be so real. But when we try to search for the mind, where is the mind, we cannot find! We know exactly where the brain is and what it looks like. We know the location of the heart and the kidneys. Is there any doubt? No, there isn't. But when it comes to the mind, nobody has ever seen the mind. Isn't that strange?

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 3: Have You Seen The Mind? | Page 13

Q: What does MIND stand for?

A: What is the mind? The MIND is Misery, Ignorance, Negativity and Desires. But where is the mind? What is its shape, its size and its colour? Have you seen the mind? Has anybody seen the mind? No, nobody has seen it. The mind does not exist. It is just a bundle of thoughts. In reality, there is no mind. However, because toxic thoughts appear as the mind, it drills us and kills us.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Preface | Page 4

Q: Why is the mind our biggest enemy?

A: The mind is a subtle aspect of our existence. It is created out of thoughts — not just thoughts but toxic thoughts. These are sad thoughts that disturb us. In fact, the mind is our biggest enemy. It stops us from being glad and we are really mad because we are not able to identify that it is the mind that makes us sad. Somehow, the mind fools us into believing that it is our best friend.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 2: What Is The Mind? | Page 11

Q: How does the mind fool us?

A: Every human being has both positive and negative thoughts. But the mind is primarily negative. It may deceive us by occasional positive thoughts but it has no intention of promoting our wellbeing. Its objective is to make us suffer and cry, as we live and die. More than putting a board on our gate, 'Beware of dogs!' we must put a board on our life, 'Beware the mind!' The mind can trigger anger and hate, and drag the false ego into our gate.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 2: What Is The Mind? | Page 11

Q: Why should we kill the mind?

A: We all experience suffering. We experience pain of the body, just as we experience the miseries of the mind — fear, worry, stress, anxiety, regret, shame and guilt. All these miseries and sorrows are rooted in the mind. As long as we live with our mind, peace and Happiness, we can never find. If we want to be happy, we must eliminate the mind. We must kill it. If we don't kill the mind, it will make us suffer and cry. And we will live and we will die.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 1: Why Should We Kill The Mind? | Page 8

Q: What happens if we do not kill the mind?

A: If we do not kill our mind, we will swing like a pendulum into yesterday and tomorrow. We will not live peacefully in the moment, as the mind creates misery and sorrow. If we want to live with peace, the very foundation of Happiness, we must eliminate the mind. We must destroy it. We must find a way to kill it. If not, the mind will destroy our life. It will kill us. Therefore, we have a choice.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 1: Why Should We Kill The Mind? | Page 9

Q: What is the connection between the mind and suffering?

A: Our mind is not the one that is giving us brilliant ideas and making our life successful. It is only a cloudburst of negative thoughts that creates stress and makes our life a mess. The mind is not the intellect that creates intelligence. The mind is the cause of all our ignorance. As long as we continue to live in the state of mind, Happiness, we can never find! That is why when we try to still the mind in silence or meditation, we experience deep peace and Happiness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 1: Why Should We Kill The Mind? | Page 8–9

Q: Does the mind really exist?

A: While nobody has seen the mind because it has no physical or gross existence, there is no doubt that the mind exists. It exists as bundles of toxic thoughts that make us sad. It is the source of all our misery and ignorance. Because of its desires, it creates disappointments. It creates so many negative thoughts that we are unable to find a way to overcome the mind. Today, the world is filled with clinics that talk of 'mind medicine'.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 3: Have You Seen The Mind? | Page 15

Q: How does the mind become a monster?

A: The mind creates up to 50,000 toxic thoughts a day — thoughts of fear, worry, stress and anxiety. It drills us and kills us with regret, shame and guilt. Not only does it make us suffer on earth but it also makes us return in a rebirth. Nobody can control thoughts, but we can control the mind. We can stop the mind from being formed as we slow down the pace of our toxic thoughts and live in Consciousness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 4: Toxic Thoughts Of The Mind | Page 16

Q: What is the relationship between thoughts and the mind?

A: If we eliminate toxic thoughts that become the mind and we are established in Consciousness where the intellect is the boss, the mind cannot create loss. But if we let toxic thoughts accumulate, these thoughts will pour like rain and the mind will push us down the drain and we will suffer, again and again. Have you seen a thick cable? What is it made of? Bundles of wires. If you unwind the wires, one by one, slowly but steadily, the cable will cease to exist. So also, we find that in silence or meditation, when we slow down the pace of toxic thoughts, there is no mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 4: Toxic Thoughts Of The Mind | Page 17

Q: What is the greatest discovery about the mind?

A: The greatest discovery of man is therefore, not the discovery of stars and planets like Mars. Rather, the greatest challenge of humanity is to discover the mind. What is this rascal, this monkey that seems to do the impossible? It can take us into a yesterday that is gone and create shame, and then jump into a tomorrow that is not yet born and spoil our life game. Only the rascal mind can do it.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 2: What Is The Mind? | Page 12

Q: How does the mind rob us of the present moment?

A: The mind attacks us with toxic thoughts. One moment, we are worried. The next moment, there is fear. Then the mind goes to the past. It digs up memories that create regret, shame and guilt. If the mind is not killed, we will continue to live in the past and suffer. Then, the mind jumps to tomorrow. It imagines fears that are not real dangers. It makes us anxious, 'What if this happens or that happens?' By doing this, the mind robs us of our present moment.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 1: Why Should We Kill The Mind? | Page 9

Q: What is the mind compared to a monkey?

A: In this book, we will understand what the mind is, where it is, how we can catch it and latch it, and how we can stop it and chop it. The mind has no physical existence. Still, it is the cause of all our ignorance. It causes depression and even incites us to commit suicide. This monster called the mind is like a wild uncontrollable monkey. It jumps into yesterday, which is gone and then, to a tomorrow that is not yet born. In a moment, our peace of mind disappears.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Introduction | Page 6

Q: Is it possible to eliminate the mind completely?

A: The world knows that the one who conquers the mind is greater than the one who conquers the world. This is the biggest challenge of life. Unless we understand that there is no mind — it is just a bundle of toxic thoughts, we will never have the courage and the confidence to still these toxic thoughts and get rid of the mind. Unfortunately, the mind is like a Phoenix, the mythical bird that rises from its ashes. We think that the mind is dead but in reality, it lies dormant in our head, only to wake up and attack us.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 4: Toxic Thoughts Of The Mind | Page 17

TOPIC: FEAR, WORRY & ANXIETY

Q: What is fear?

A: What is FEAR? It is a False Expectation Appearing Real. It is not a danger that is real. It is just a fear. But it doesn't kill us! Didn't COVID teach us this? No doubt, it was a serious ailment and could be fatal but what was shocking was that it shut down the entire world for months. Mahatma Gandhi rightly said, 'Fear of the disease kills far more people than the disease itself.' This is what fear does! It destroys us. And what is its source? The mind!

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 27–28

Q: What is worry and what causes it?

A: What is 'worry'? WORRY is Waste of life, Overthinking, Repeating the fear, Rehearsing the problem and Yearning. What causes us to worry? Toxic thoughts of the mind cause us to worry. They drill us and they kill us and we become miserable because of worry. We can't even enjoy the most delicious curry! We just hurry and cry till we die! How can we eliminate worry?

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 28

Q: What is anxiety and why does it attack us?

A: Anxiety is nothing but a combination of fear, worry and stress. These combined create anxiety and rob our peace and tranquillity. There is no reason to be anxious. There may not even be any fear. But anxiety makes us pause, even without us understanding the real cause. It is the mind. When the mind becomes MK-50, the Mind-Killer-50, it becomes a weapon more dangerous than an AK-47. It silently kills us by bombarding us with toxic thoughts that pour like rain.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 30

Q: What is stress and what causes it?

A: What is stress? Poisonous thoughts of the mind create stress. STRESS is: Sad thoughts, Toxic thoughts, Repetitive thoughts, Exhausting thoughts, Sadistic thoughts, Suffocating thoughts. Stress is nothing but a product of thoughts. Thoughts from our mind that nobody can find. Still, the mind creates stress and pushes our peace and Happiness behind. If we let stress fill our head, we will be dead.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 29

Q: Why do people fear things that are not real dangers?

A: Radha was tormented by her mind. It created so much anxiety that she had lost all peace and tranquillity. She would wake up every morning with so many fears — fear about her daughter failing in her studies, fear about her husband walking out on her. These were not real or imminent dangers. They were just False Expectations Appearing Real, just FEARS. They were a figment of her imagination. But she was stressed. She continued to have repetitive, sad and toxic thoughts, shot like bullets by her mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 2: What Is The Mind? | Page 10–11

Q: How does fear destroy our peace?

A: When toxic thoughts of the mind accumulate, they grind us to a halt. If we want to eliminate fear, we must do the things we fear, then the fear will disappear. But to do this, we must not let the mind appear. The mind attacks us with toxic thoughts. One moment, we are worried. The next moment, there is fear. Then the mind goes to the past. It digs up memories that create regret, shame and guilt.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 28

Q: Why do people overthink and how does it lead to suffering?

A: Overthinking is the nature of the mind. It is not about your mind or my mind. Every mind overthinks, bombarding us with 50,000 poisonous thoughts a day. Not only when we are awake but also when we are asleep, the mind attacks us by creating toxic dreams. Every human being is cursed with this overthinking mind and unless we learn to still it and kill it, we can easily fall prey to a bad mood.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 13: Overthinking And Bad Mood | Page 42

Q: What is the disease of 'Rottenthoughtitis'?

A: More people die out of 'Rottenthoughtitis' — a disease caused by the 7 miseries of the mind. These rotten thoughts create anxiety and stress, and soon, we are in such a mess that we shuttle into the past and live with regret, shame and guilt. Then, we swing to the future and live with worry and anxiety. It's time to kill the mind before the mind kills us!

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 32

Q: How does the mind create a bad mood?

A: Life is like a buffet. We can choose our mood just like we can choose our food. The toxic thoughts of the mind become the fodder, the food of our bad mood. The mind makes us overthink and before we realize it, we blink and we sink. The toxic thoughts of the mind are like quicksand. Once we are a victim, we can no more be happy.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 13: Overthinking And Bad Mood | Page 42

Q: Why do we swing between the past and the future?

A: Every human being faces the 7 miseries of the mind. These are fear, worry, stress and anxiety that mostly make a miserable tomorrow. Then, there are regrets, shame and guilt, which push us back into a past that is gone. What is making us swing like a pendulum from yesterday to tomorrow, creating misery and sorrow? It is the rascal mind! The monkey jumps into the past and the future and we become unhappy.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 27

Q: How does the mind create mental illness?

A: Today, the whole world suffers from what is known as mental illness because of the mind. But it is so strange that nobody is able to locate the mind — where it is exactly. No doubt, the toxic thoughts of the mind drill us and kill us. But while we can locate the heart and the brain, all we know is that toxic thoughts pour on us again and again and we are pushed down the drain.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 2: What Is The Mind? | Page 11

Q: Can we escape the MK-50?

A: We have all heard of the AK-47. It is a dangerous weapon used by terrorists to kill. But not many know of the MK-50, a deadlier weapon, the Mind-Killer-50. By shooting at us about 50 toxic thoughts every minute, the mind can kill us with its 50,000 toxic thoughts every day. Therefore, the MK-50 is far more dangerous than the AK-47. It is an irony that we all dread cannons, guns and weapons that can kill the body but we don't pay attention to a far more dangerous weapon that can destroy our life.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 22: How To Escape The MK-50 | Page 60

Q: How can we handle worry and stop it from ruining our life?

A: Shyam was well-settled but along with money, name and fame, he had also accumulated worries. This had made him lose his peace of mind. There was no real problem in his life but he imagined problems. Overthinking overruled his Happiness and he couldn't enjoy life. Although he had everything, it seemed he had nothing! A relative wisely explained to Shyam the uselessness of overthinking and wasting his life. He taught him the meaninglessness of fear and how he should deal with the problem when he comes to it. This led Shyam to live with peace.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 28–29

Q: What is the walking-dead syndrome caused by the mind?

A: These people are like the walking-dead. They are riddled with bullets of fear, shame, worry and guilt. Although they breathe, they don't live. They just exist. They worry needlessly and lose the precious present moment, living either in yesterday or tomorrow, which don't exist. They transfer all their misery and sorrow to today because of a mind, which nobody can find.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 32

Q: What happens when anxiety goes unchecked?

A: If we want to be happy and restore peace and tranquillity, the very foundation of Happiness, we must eliminate all anxiety. For this, there is only one way — kill the mind before the mind kills you! The mind can lead us to depression. If we let toxic thoughts create aggression, we will lose all inspiration. We may even end up with suicidal thoughts, all because of the mind, which we cannot find.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 30

TOPIC: REGRET, SHAME & GUILT

Q: What is regret and how does the mind use it against us?

A: What makes us REGRET? We may have done something years ago. It's over and done with but still, we go back to that incident, again and again. In reality, can we? Can anybody actually go back to yesterday or last week or last year? Nobody can! But the mind can. Jennifer was devastated. Every precious moment of every invaluable day was destroyed because she could not get rid of her regret. The mind had locked her with poisonous regret that was destroying her life.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 30

Q: What is shame and how does it create suffering?

A: Sometimes, it is not just regret. It is SHAME too that spoils the game! 'Oh my God! What will happen to my name?' The mind manipulates us and makes us feel ashamed. Sometimes, it may be for what we have done and at other times, the opinion of others may make us fail as shame could create a jail. Even if we have blundered, we must reverse it. But some people are unable to do it. Like Rajesh. He could not let go. He would nurse it, curse it and rehearse it.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 31

Q: What is guilt and how does it destroy us?

A: GUILT can kill us. But what is guilt built on? Guilt is built on the toxic thoughts of the mind. The mind kidnaps us and causes us to regress into a draconian moment of the past. Then, it repeats the incident and makes us feel guilty. No doubt, we should not have done that. But how does guilt help? It only destroys us. The destroyer is not our action. It is the mind. Nobody is perfect. We all make mistakes. But our biggest mistake is to let our mind create guilt.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 31

Q: How does the mind keep us trapped in the past?

A: Have you ever seen the mind? Is there any trace of it? What does it look like? Where is it? The answer is, 'No.' But of course, you have experienced the mind. It can create so much regret and shame that you can get paralyzed revisiting the past and you cry. The past is gone, never to return. But still, it is only the mind that can jump into yesterday and make us nurse, curse and rehearse the past and make us aghast about something that we cannot do anything about!

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 3: Have You Seen The Mind? | Page 14

Q: How can we overcome regret?

A: Rajesh realized that what was done could not be undone. He eliminated his shameful mind and decided to help people and make a positive difference in the world, trying to amend the wrong he had done. A wise master challenged him, 'I will give you all the money and resources to go back and change what you did. Can you?' Rajesh realized that what was done could not be undone. We must not nurse, curse and rehearse the past, but instead eliminate the mind and move forward.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 31

Q: What is the purpose of letting go of the past?

A: Roger had troubled many of his colleagues for several years. One day, he awakened and realized his mistake. He felt guilty. But because Roger realized that he could not go back to the past and change what he had done, he decided to live each moment of the present with kindness and humility and built a positive life that wiped out all his guilt. Should we not live like Roger? Should we not wipe out all the miseries of our mind?

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 31–32

Q: Why does the mind create a cycle of regret, shame and guilt?

A: The mind goes to the past and creates regret, shame and guilt with its thoughts that nurse, curse and rehearse the incidents and wrongs of the past. We lose our peace. Then the mind jumps to tomorrow and creates stress, worry and anxiety. Immediately, any peace that we enjoy will cease because of our own mind. Where there is a piece of mind, there can be no peace of mind because the mind is bombarding us with a thought every second.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 27

Q: How does the mind use past incidents to destroy the present?

A: The mind does not knock on the door. It enters uninvited and pushes us on the floor and we are happy no more! Toxic thoughts of the mind pour like rain and push us down the drain and we become miserable, again and again. The mind makes us blind to the fact that the past is gone. It traps us in a time loop that has no constructive purpose. How can we get out of this pain?

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Preface | Page 4–5

Q: Why is guilt more damaging than the mistake itself?

A: Guilt can kill us. The mind binds us to the ground like a tree and we go round and round, repeating that thought of guilt. We feel lousy about ourselves and we waste our life repeating the guilty feeling triggered by the mind. Nobody is perfect. We all make mistakes. But our biggest mistake is to let our mind create guilt. Then, we are not free. The destroyer is not our action. It is the mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 31

Q: Can shame be overcome?

A: Rajesh had done a wrong and he could not unwind that. 'I wish I could die,' he would think, 'I feel so ashamed of what I have done.' A wise master challenged him, 'I will give you all the money and resources to go back and change what you did. Can you?' Rajesh realized that what was done could not be undone. He eliminated his shameful mind and decided to help people and make a positive difference in the world. We must stop nursing shame and instead, redirect that energy toward positive action.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 31

Q: How do toxic thoughts of regret become a time loop?

A: Jennifer was devastated. Every precious moment of every invaluable day was destroyed because she could not get rid of her regret. 'Oh, how I wish I had not moved cities. How could I have been so indifferent to my family?' She would repeat this thought many times every day. It seemed like she was stuck in a time loop even though this had happened years ago. But she was not really stuck. Her mind had locked her with poisonous regret that was destroying her life.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 30

Q: What is the triple suffering caused by body, mind and ego?

A: Every human being suffers on earth. We experience the pain of the body, misery of the mind and agony of the ego. Nobody can escape these. Pain of the body is just one of the miseries that we experience. Greater than physical pain is mental misery — fear, worry, stress, anxiety of the future, regret, shame and guilt of the past. These are the miseries caused by the mind. To add to these mental illnesses, the ego robs our stillness with pride, greed and selfishness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 12: The Triple Suffering | Page 40

Q: How does stillness cure the suffering caused by regret and guilt?

A: Bhushan told his friend with a smile, 'My doctors are surprised at how well I am doing. I spend time in meditation and silence, and that stillness has cured my illness. My mind no longer controls me — I killed it. I am in touch with my loved ones. They have warmed up to me again and I can see the love in their eyes.' Like Bhushan, there are millions who suffer from toxic thoughts but the solution is to kill the mind through stillness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 12: The Triple Suffering | Page 41

Q: Why does the mind always choose negative emotions?

A: It is easy for the mind to choose negative emotions like regret, guilt and shame. This spoils our life game. We get caught in the vicious cycle of negative thoughts, feelings and emotions. There is no way to break this negative cycle until we kill the mind. If only we eliminate the mind and its toxic thoughts, we can move to a state of awareness or Consciousness and use our intellect to choose positive emotions.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 5: The Raw Material Of The Thought Factory |

Q: How can we wipe out the 7 miseries of the mind?

A: We can be happy or we can be unhappy but if we open the door to the mind, peace and joy, we will never find. The mind is infamous for creating these 7 miseries. It can destroy our peace, the very essence of Happiness. We don't need to live with fear and worry but the mind gifts us these miseries. It's time to kill the mind before the mind kills us! We can manage tuberculosis, fibrosis, conjunctivitis and arthritis but if we are diseased with 'Rottenthoughtitis,' we are sure to be dead even before we die.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 9: The 7 Miseries Of The Mind | Page 32

TOPIC: THE EGO

Q: What is the ego and how is it created?

A: What is the ego? It is that identity of 'I', 'me' and 'mine'. While we are individual beings, it is the mind that makes us believe that we are superior, we are different and we are the best! We develop pride because the mind teaches us to be better and compete with others. Naturally, we create the agonies of the ego. The monsters of anger, hate, revenge and jealousy, are byproducts of the ego. It is the ego that creates greed and selfishness. But the root cause is the mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 10: The Mind Creates 'I' — The False Ego |

Q: What are the 7 monsters of the ego?

A: We suffer because of the 7 monsters without realizing who is the mother of all the monsters. Who gives birth to anger, hate, revenge and jealousy? Why is our life full of greed, selfishness and pride? The root cause is our false ego, the false ego that is created by the mind. Little do we realize that all our agony, our anguish is rooted in the false ego that stops us from realizing our real self.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 11: The 7 Monsters Of The Ego | Page 35

Q: Why does the ego create anger?

A: What does anger do? It creates a fire inside us. Why do we get angry? Because of unfulfilled expectations. The ego gets upset when its instructions are not followed. Anger is rooted in that false identity of 'I'. Jeshan used to scream, 'I told you to do it! How dare you did not!' It was his ego that was causing the anger. Little did he realize that the fire of anger was destroying his peace, his Happiness and his life.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 11: The 7 Monsters Of The Ego | Page 36

Q: How does jealousy and revenge destroy us?

A: Karishma was consumed by the agony caused by her ego because she was jealous. She was vengeful. Her ego wanted supremacy. When her colleagues were selected to go on a foreign trip, she was so jealous that she stealthily stole their passports and cut them into pieces. She was jailed. Her dynamic career came to an end. It was her ego that failed her. Many of us live like Karishma. We are slaves to our anger and jealousy. Revenge and hate exist inside our gate.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 11: The 7 Monsters Of The Ego | Page 37

Q: How does pride cause suffering?

A: Ashish was sure that he was the best! He was proud of his achievements. He was convinced that there was nobody as good as him. He was a narcissist and egoistic — full of himself. His employees and his near and dear ones put up with his behaviour and pride as long as they benefitted from his gifts and his wealth but when Ashish faced tough times, almost everybody deserted him. Now, this does not happen when our ego is inflated by pride.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 11: The 7 Monsters Of The Ego | Page 38

Q: What is the difference between the false ego and the Enlightened Ego?

A: As long as we live with the mind, the toxic emotions of the mind will create misery and sorrow. The moment we eliminate the MIND — Misery, Ignorance, Negativity and Desire, the ego is Awakened. We then, eliminate the monsters that are rooted in pride, greed and selfishness. Anger becomes forgiveness. Pride becomes humility. Greed transforms to charity and hate transforms to love. The false ego is motivated by ME. The Enlightened Ego is inspired by WE.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 11: The 7 Monsters Of The Ego | Page 38–39

Q: Can we kill the ego?

A: We cannot kill the ego. The ego is our identity and will remain till death, till our last breath, but we can Enlighten the ego to realize that we are the Divine Soul. Then, we can be blissful. Every human being wants to be happy. Little do we realize that the ego steals our Happiness. It makes us falsely believe that we can celebrate our success. Deep within, the ego is creating monsters that are planting seeds of failure.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 11: The 7 Monsters Of The Ego | Page 39

Q: How does the mind inflate the false ego?

A: Today, the whole world is suffering because of the false ego created by the mind. There is conflict and chaos. There is war and destruction because the mind has inflated the ego of political, religious and military leaders. There is a thirst for power, wealth and fame. It's a shame that we don't realize that the culprit is the mind. If only we eliminate the mind, the false ego will be Enlightened and we will realize the truth of life that we are not the body that will die.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 10: The Mind Creates 'I' — The False Ego |

Q: How does greed and selfishness stem from the ego?

A: The ego creates GREED and all that we want is for 'I', 'me' and 'mine'. We are insensitive to others. We become selfish and ultimately, the agony of pride, greed and selfishness destroys our peace. As long as we live with the mind, the toxic emotions of the mind will create misery and sorrow. But more than fear, worry, stress and anxiety caused by the mind, the monsters that it creates through the ego, destroy us completely.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 11: The 7 Monsters Of The Ego | Page 38

Q: Why does the ego create comparison and conflict?

A: Because of the mind, the ego creates comparison, competition, conflict and war. Little do we realize that the entire suffering of the world today is because of the Mind and Ego, ME, and this is rooted in the mind that makes us believe that we are the Lower Self, the false ego. The mind fools us into believing that I am different from you. But the reality is that while we have two hands or 10 fingers, they all belong to one body.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 10: The Mind Creates 'I' — The False Ego |

Q: What happens to the ego when the mind is killed?

A: The moment we eliminate the mind and its ignorance, instantly we realize, 'I am not the body that will die. But I am. Who am I?' As long as the mind traps us into being the ego, we live and die as the body, mind and ego complex. Because of the Mind and Ego, ME, we don't discover our true identity. We remain trapped in the Lower Self, the false ego and do not enjoy the peace and bliss of the Enlightened Ego.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 10: The Mind Creates 'I' — The False Ego |

Q: How can we transform from ME to WE?

A: Competition is replaced by collaboration and the formula, TEAM — Together Everyone Achieves More, replaces the authoritarian, ephemeral rule of the false ego. For this transformation, we must kill the mind that stops us from Awakening and evolving from the false ego to the Enlightened Ego. When we kill the mind, we transcend the Lower Self and are free from the monsters that create the agony and anguish of anger, hate, revenge, jealousy, pride, greed and selfishness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 11: The 7 Monsters Of The Ego | Page 39

Q: What does it mean to Enlighten the ego?

A: To Awaken the ego, we must ask the simple question, 'Who am I? Am I this body that will die?' The answer stares us in the face. When the ego that says, 'I,' questions, 'Who is this 'I'?' then, the ego is Enlightened. The ego realizes that I am not the body that will die. I am not the mind that nobody could find. But I exist. Who am I? I am the Soul, the Spark Of Unique Life. When the ego realizes this, the ego is Awakened.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 26: How To Enlighten The Ego | Page 71

Q: What is the burning coal of anger?

A: Jeshan realized that it was because of his ego that he would get so angry. He carried this anger like a piece of burning coal — to throw it at those who angered him. But he was blessed to realize that the burning coal of anger was causing far more damage to his own hand that was holding it rather than to those he was hurling it at. When we burn in anger, we are ultimately harming ourselves.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 11: The 7 Monsters Of The Ego | Page 36

Q: How does the ego keep us trapped in suffering life after life?

A: When we are born, it is the Mind and Ego, ME, that carries Karma and takes birth in a body. But it is this entity — the body, mind and ego — that suffers. If the ego is Enlightened to realize that I am not the body that will die and I am not the mind, we overcome physical pain and mental misery. However, this is only possible if we kill the mind. If we do not kill the mind, it will continue to make the ego live as the false lower self.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 10: The Mind Creates 'I' — The False Ego |

TOPIC: PEACE OF MIND

Q: How can we find peace of mind?

A: Everybody in this world wants peace of mind. Foolishly, we are searching for peace. We go to the mountains. We retreat to exotic destinations to find peace. No doubt, we enjoy the beauty and the tranquillity. But the biggest problem is that we carry our mind with us and as long as we carry our mind, peace, we cannot find. We must eliminate the mind completely. Then, we will enjoy peace.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 23: How To Find Peace Of Mind | Page 62

Q: Can peace and mind coexist?

A: The moment we lose peace, our bliss is shattered into pieces. Our Happiness is destroyed. Little do we realize that wherever there is a small piece of mind, there will be no peace of mind. Therefore, we must eliminate the mind, for where there is peace, there is no mind. Both cannot co-exist. When the mind exists, our peace will cease but when we seize the mind — we catch it, detach it and latch it — then peace, we will find.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 23: How To Find Peace Of Mind | Page 63

Q: Why is peace the foundation of happiness?

A: If we want to live with peace, the very foundation of Happiness, we must eliminate the mind. We must destroy it. We must find a way to kill it. If not, the mind will destroy our life. It will kill us. Once we are completely still, the mind pauses. It is in this state of stillness that our Consciousness activates our intellect to lock the mind and block the mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 1: Why Should We Kill The Mind? | Page 9

Q: What is the secret to peace that lies within?

A: Many people try to befriend the mind. They confuse their mind with their intellect, the source of creative ideas. The mind fools them into believing that it is a pillar of goodness and creativity and so, they try to find peace with their mind. Little do they realize that it is their mind that causes their peace to cease. If we really want to find peace, we must kill the mind. A lake is still and peaceful. Ripples destroy the tranquillity of the lake. So do the toxic ripples of the mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 23: How To Find Peace Of Mind | Page 64

Q: How does the loss of peace destroy happiness?

A: Jitu and Ramneek were celebrating their 50th birthday. Hundreds of friends came. There was music, dancing, champagne and celebration. Suddenly, there was some alarming news about a fire. There was chaos! The party got disrupted. The entire Happiness of the celebration got torpedoed by the mind. We all experience this. We are happy but we lose peace. The moment we lose peace, our bliss is shattered into pieces. Our Happiness is destroyed.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 23: How To Find Peace Of Mind | Page 62–63

Q: Why do we carry our mind wherever we go and lose peace?

A: One thing that I realized was that whenever the mind arrived, peace departed and so did my Happiness. There was no point of time in life where peace and mind co-existed. When peace arrived, the mind departed, just as when the mind entered, peace exited! We see it every day with day and night. When the darkness of night takes over the sunshine of the day, the bright sunshine of life comes to an end. But when the sun rises, the whole world lights up.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 23: How To Find Peace Of Mind | Page 64

Q: What is SatChitAnanda and how is it related to peace?

A: SatChitAnanda is a state of Eternal Happiness. If we want SatChitAnanda, we need Sat Chit. Sat is Truth and Chit is Consciousness. If we can be established in Consciousness, Chit, and be rooted in the Truth, Sat, we will be led to Ananda or Eternal Bliss. SatChitAnanda is Truth Consciousness Bliss. It is Eternal Happiness. Peace lasts longer. But it is still not eternal because the mind creates fear, worry, stress and anxiety.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 30: Living In SatChitAnanda | Page 78–79

Q: What does it feel like to live without the mind?

A: Today, I live in Consciousness without a mind. Yes, you may laugh but I have no mind. Just beautiful, positive, peaceful, blissful and cheerful thoughts that enter my Consciousness. I live with greater creativity and intelligence as my intellect is the boss. There is no mind that is riding my life- horse and creating loss. I am free from the MIND — all Misery, all Ignorance, all Negativity and all Desires.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Afterword | Page 81

Q: What is the role of silence in finding peace?

A: The moment we are completely still, the mind pauses. But for this, we must shut off our senses — our eyes, nose, ears, tongue and skin are like windows that allow toxic thoughts of the mind to enter. When we shut our senses, we can still the mind. It is in this state of stillness that our Consciousness activates our intellect to lock the mind and block the mind. Then, we will learn how to snatch it, catch it, detach it and latch it.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 17: To Kill The Mind, Still The Mind | Page 51

Q: How does meditation help us find peace?

A: Prarthana went to a Guru who taught her how she could kill her rascal mind. He taught her how to practice silence, short spells of silence, one minute of meditation and five minutes of silence. By doing so, Prarthana experienced stillness and her mental illness was under control. Not just Prarthana, this applies to all of us. The moment we are completely still, the mind pauses.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 17: To Kill The Mind, Still The Mind | Page 51

Q: How is stillness of the mind related to healing?

A: Bhushan told his friend, 'My doctors are surprised at how well I am doing. I spend time in meditation and silence, and that stillness has cured my illness. My mind no longer controls me — I killed it. I am in touch with my loved ones. They have warmed up to me again and I can see the love in their eyes.' Like Bhushan, there are millions of people who suffer from 'Rottenthoughtitis' but the solution lies in stillness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 12: The Triple Suffering | Page 41

Q: Why is peace within us and not outside?

A: Those who are in search of peace of mind, must learn to eliminate the MIND — Misery, Ignorance, Negativity and Desire. The toxic thoughts of the mind become seeds that create a jungle of poisonous feelings in which we get trapped. But if we learn the art of stilling the mind, we will succeed in killing the mind. Then, the mind will cease to exist. Peace is not something we find outside; it is something we discover when we still the mind within.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 23: How To Find Peace Of Mind | Page 63

Q: What happens to peace when the mind is established in Consciousness?

A: The mind and the Consciousness are like the two ends of a seesaw, one side up and the other side down. With BBC — Bring Back Consciousness — we push the mind down. We are supreme, in control when we are established in Consciousness. If we let the mind push us down, it will grind us and destroy us. Once established in Consciousness, there is peace, love and bliss.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 21: BBC — Bring Back Consciousness | Page

Q: How can Consciousness replace the suffering of the mind?

A: If we really want to find peace, we must kill the mind. Don't look for peace anywhere. Just still the mind and peace you will find. The key to permanently eliminating the mind is to be established in Consciousness. If we fail to do so, we may still the mind momentarily but we will never kill the mind. By being established in Consciousness, we don't give the mind an opportunity to surface and to take charge of our head.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 23–24 | Page 64–65

Q: How is peace connected to Eternal Happiness?

A: I explained to them that Happiness has 3 Ps. It is not just pleasure that comes from success and achievement, we need peace that comes from contentment and fulfillment. Ultimately, we need to find purpose. Unfortunately, the mind blocks us. It does not permit us to realize the truth. It keeps on bombarding us with lies. Unless we overcome these real lies that are created by the mind, we cannot reach that state of Eternal Happiness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 30: Living In SatChitAnanda | Page 78

TOPIC: CONSCIOUSNESS & THE INTELLECT

Q: What is Consciousness and why is it important?

A: The only way to find the mind is to be mindful. In this state of Mindfulness or Awareness, known as Consciousness, we can witness and observe the subtle rascal that robs our peace and Happiness. Consciousness exists. Every living being has a Soul that vibrates Consciousness that gives us life. But the mind overshadows our Consciousness. Once we are established and firmly rooted in Consciousness, we have succeeded in eliminating all traces of the mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 16, 24 | Page 48, 65

Q: How do we flip from mind to Consciousness?

A: This jump is a trickier flip. We have to flip from mind to Consciousness. Every time the mind creates the dark clouds of miserable thoughts and fills our Consciousness, we must flip over into Consciousness and wipe out the toxic thoughts with the sunshine of silence and positivity. One may wonder how to do it. But when we learn the art of flipping over from mind to Consciousness, we become the master of the mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 18: Flip From Mind To Consciousness | Page 52

Q: What is the role of the intellect in killing the mind?

A: The greatest crime of the mind is that it makes us blind and ensures that the truth is left behind. Each of us human beings is blessed with a unique faculty of discrimination. We have an intellect. Only a human being can discriminate like we do — we choose our food, our clothes and make all our decisions. If we flip over from mind to Consciousness, we can use our intelligence. It is in the state of stillness that the intellect is activated.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 19: Activate The Intellect | Page 54

Q: What is the BBC technique?

A: BBC means Bring Back Consciousness. Every time the mind tries to attack us with its miserable thoughts — Misery, Ignorance, Negativity and Desires, the mind is trying to destroy our life. What should we do? We must flip from mind to Consciousness. The biggest challenge is that we don't even know that the mind has captured our head. Before we realize it, we are dead! Therefore, the need to 'BBC'.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 21: BBC — Bring Back Consciousness | Page

Q: How does one become established in Consciousness?

A: Most of us live in a mind state. The mind is constantly chattering, creating Misery, Ignorance, Negativity and Desire. This is because we are not established in Consciousness.

The mind has overtaken the intellect. We are enveloped in ignorance. The key to permanently eliminating the mind is to be established in Consciousness. By being established in Consciousness, we don't give the mind an opportunity to surface and to take charge of our head.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 24: Being Established In Consciousness | Page

Q: What happens when the intellect takes charge?

A: Only one — either the mind or the intellect — can dominate our existence. If we let the mind be the king, we will experience suffering as we will not use our intellect. But if we let the intellect ride our life horse, we will be the boss! The mind will not cause loss! It is the MIND — Misery, Ignorance, Negativity and Desire — that must be replaced by the intellect so that we can achieve not just success, achievement, peace and fulfillment but also purpose and Enlightenment.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 19: Activate The Intellect | Page 55

Q: What is the 'Stop It, Crop It, Chop It, Drop It' method?

A: The formula is that when a toxic thought is hurled at us by the mind, we must use our intellect, which is activated in Consciousness, to stop the thought. As we stop it, we must crop it, catch it and detach it from the mind. When the intellect stops a thought, we must crop it and chop it. We must cut it into pieces so that the thought no more exists. We must eliminate the thought and then, eradicate it. How? By dropping it!

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 20: Stop It, Crop It, Chop It, Drop It | Page 56–

Q: What is mindfulness and how does it help?

A: The only way to find the mind is to be mindful. In this state of Mindfulness or Awareness, known as Consciousness, we can witness and observe the subtle rascal that robs our peace and Happiness. But how can we be in that state of Mindfulness or Consciousness? We must have seen this many times — the sun is shining and the bright blue skies herald the beginning of a beautiful warm, sunny day. Suddenly, the sun disappears. So does the mind appear and disrupt our Awareness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 16: Become Aware Of The Mind | Page 48

Q: How does Consciousness block the mind?

A: The bright sunshine of Consciousness activates the intellect that blocks the mind and locks the mind. Being established in Consciousness means that the mind is deactivated. The mind will question immediately, 'How can you deactivate thoughts?' But the one in Consciousness is aware, 'We don't deactivate thoughts. We discriminate thoughts. We deactivate the rotten thoughts that appear as the mind.'

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 24: Being Established In Consciousness | Page

Q: What does Leela's example teach us about Consciousness?

A: Leela was the master of her thoughts. She was peaceful and blissful. Every rotten thought was stopped, cropped, chopped and dropped. She did not permit rotten thoughts to accumulate and become the mind. She was always cheerful, without a sign of fear, worry or anxiety. Stress never messed up her life because she did not open the door to the toxic thoughts of the mind. Her secret was that she was always established in Consciousness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 24: Being Established In Consciousness | Page

Q: What is PEP and NEP?

A: PEP is Positive Emotions that create Power. We are feeding our Consciousness with the raw material that will produce positive thoughts. Consider emotions like faith, hope, trust, belief, enthusiasm, courage, confidence, compassion, forgiveness, love, kindness, peace and optimism. NEP is Negative Emotions that create Poison. The mind constantly produces negative thoughts — thoughts of fear, worry, stress, anxiety, regret, shame and guilt. Unless we flip over from NEP to PEP, we can't think positively.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 8: How To Think Positive All The Time | Page

Q: How can we think positive all the time?

A: If we make it a conscious choice to choose PEP, Positive Emotions that create Power, we are feeding our Consciousness with the raw material that will produce positive thoughts. I resolved to live with PEP. At every opportunity in life, I chose PEP. I made PEP the manager of my thought factory. I fired NEP! I eliminated the mind, the rascal that was constantly producing negative thoughts. Thus, having no negative thoughts, there were no negative feelings or actions.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 8: How To Think Positive All The Time | Page 26

Q: How is Consciousness like sunlight?

A: How can you kill darkness? You can't! But the moment light appears, darkness disappears. So also, we can eliminate the mind through positive thoughts, through silence and meditation, and through establishing ourselves in Consciousness where our intellect prevails. Like the sun is shining and the bright blue skies herald the beginning of a beautiful warm, sunny day, Consciousness is the sunlight that dispels the dark clouds of the mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 15, 16 | Page 47, 48

Q: What is the Mental Thought Rate (MTR)?

A: The whole world today is fascinated by the power of meditation. What is meditation? It is nothing but slowing down our MTR, our Mental Thought Rate. Our MTR can easily be up to 50 thoughts per minute. This can be a whopping 50,000 thoughts a day. No wonder we are diseased with mental illness and so many get deceased because of it. When we slow down our MTR from 50 to 40 and to 30, it seems like we are getting a hold on our mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 17: To Kill The Mind, Still The Mind | Page 50–

Q: How does being in Consciousness end suffering?

A: It is in this state of Consciousness that we can activate our intellect that will block the mind and lock the mind. But first, we must flip from mind to Consciousness. If you want to kill the mind, it is not difficult. You can still the mind and kill the mind as you flip over from a state of mind to a state of Consciousness. If you don't, the mind will bombard you and rob you of the opportunity of being in Awareness and Consciousness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 18: Flip From Mind To Consciousness | Page 53

TOPIC: KARMA & REBIRTH

Q: What is Karma and how does it work?

A: What is Karma? The word 'Karma' means action but in reality, it is a law that governs the universe — the Law of Action and Reaction. A law that is based on the principle — As you sow, so shall you reap. No human being is free from action or Karma. Every action, good or bad, is recorded by the Law of Karma. When we die, the body returns to dust but the subtle body, the Mind and Ego, becomes the ME that returns to earth in a rebirth.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 25: The Mind And Karma | Page 67

Q: How does the mind create Karma?

A: Not only does the Mind create suffering on earth, it creates Karma and makes us return in a rebirth! The body is only the actor. It does the Karma, the action. It is the Mind and Ego, ME, that is the director. Therefore, the body, mind and ego, together are rewarded or punished for the good and the bad deeds, respectively. However, one day, the body will die. What about the unsettled Karma? The Mind and Ego, ME carries it and returns to earth in a rebirth.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 28: Being Free From Karma And Suffering |

Q: Can we be free from the cycle of rebirth?

A: The goal of life is to be free from suffering on earth and free from the cycle of rebirth. However, as long as there is Karma, good or bad, we will have to come back to settle our account. While we are aware of the misery caused by the mind and the agony caused by the ego, only a small fraction of us realize the infinite suffering they create for us, life after life. The only way out is Realization of the Truth and Liberation or freedom from rebirth.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 28: Being Free From Karma And Suffering |

Q: What is Moksha or Nirvana?

A: Most of us will live and die without discovering, 'Who am 'I'?' Then, we will return to earth in a rebirth. This will go on and on, as we are reborn. Nirvana or Moksha means Self-Realization — I am the Soul. It means God Realization — The Soul is SIP, the Supreme Immortal Power. Therefore, I am a manifestation of SIP. I am not 'I'. I will never die. When the body dies, I will become one with SIP, the Supreme Immortal Power.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 29: Nirvana And Moksha | Page 77

Q: Why does good Karma also bind us?

A: If we have bad Karma, we are handcuffed to suffer. But even with good Karma, our hands are bound by golden handcuffs. We are brought back to this world to experience the triple suffering of the body, mind and ego. The goal of life is to be free from suffering on earth and free from the cycle of rebirth. Nobody is free from action but to whom does Karma belong? The body dies. The Karma belongs to the Mind and Ego, ME.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 28: Being Free From Karma And Suffering |

Q: What happens to Karma when the body dies?

A: When we die, the body returns to dust but the subtle body, the Mind and Ego, becomes the ME that returns to earth in a rebirth. The body is only the actor. The mind blinds us into believing that I am 'I'. So, when I die, I carry my Karma, and I return to earth in a rebirth. Nobody can deny the logic that we are born and that one day, we will be gone! The mind does not permit us to realize the truth.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 25: The Mind And Karma | Page 67–69

Q: How does killing the mind free us from Karma?

A: For those who are established in Consciousness, there is the Realization that there is no mind. Nobody has seen the mind. Therefore, to whom does the Karma belong? When these questions are answered, there is the Realization that it is the mind that is causing us to return to earth in a rebirth. Not only is it creating misery for us on earth but it is also creating an eternal prison of death and rebirth, in which we will suffer again and again.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 25: The Mind And Karma | Page 69

Q: What is the purpose of life according to the book?

A: What is the ultimate goal of life? It is not just to be a clown who jumps up and down. Life is not a circus. Life has a purpose. There is a reason why we came to earth. There is a profound purpose for this human birth. Unfortunately, because of the mind, we cannot find this purpose. We live and we die, we suffer and we cry, because the mind does not permit us to find out, 'Who am 'I'?'

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 29: Nirvana And Moksha | Page 76

Q: What is the journey of Self-Discovery?

A: The journey of Self-Realization will not only help us overcome all ignorance created by the mind but it will also take us to the state of Eternal Peace, Divine Love and Everlasting Bliss. The journey of self-discovery is the key. Self-Realization is that quest which asks the questions, 'Who am I? Where did I come from? Where will I go? What is my purpose?' When we ask these questions, the mind stops us from finding out the answers.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 27: The Journey Of Self-Discovery | Page 72

Q: What do Enlightened Saints teach us about the mind?

A: Several Saints including Gautama Buddha, Adi Shankaracharya, Swami Vivekananda and Ramana Maharshi have shared their story of Awakening. Ramana Maharshi questioned, 'Naan Yaar?' meaning, 'Who am I?' Adi Shankaracharya had the Awakening of, 'Shivoham, I am nothing, only a manifestation of God.' All these Saints Awakened to the Truth that we are not the body that will die. We are not the mind that we cannot find. The ego is Enlightened to realize that we are the Soul.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 27: The Journey Of Self-Discovery | Page 73

Q: What happens if we don't kill the mind in this life?

A: Most of the world understands the suffering created by the mind. But very few realize that the imposter mind that does not exist is causing perennial suffering by binding us in the cycle of Samsara. Unless we kill the mind, the truth, we cannot find. We will not discover, 'Who am 'I'?' and we will die. We will be reborn, and this will go on and on.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 25: The Mind And Karma | Page 69

Q: How does the law of Karma govern the universe?

A: There are several universal laws that govern this world. We are familiar with the Law of Gravity. The Law of Cycles makes the earth rotate precisely once in 24 hours. Is this magic? No! There is a clear logic. There are Divine Laws that are causing everything in this world to unfold. Such is Karma, another law that governs everything that happens in this world. Therefore, if you plant mangoes, you cannot get apples. What you do will come back to you.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 25: The Mind And Karma | Page 68

Q: What is liberation and how is it attained?

A: We all seek Eternal Happiness. But we don't realize that as long as we continue to arrive on earth in a rebirth, we will have no option but to suffer. The body must decay and die and as the mind and ego, we will experience misery and agony. The only way out is Realization of the Truth and Liberation or freedom from rebirth. As long as the wave believes that it is a wave, it will never realize that it is the ocean.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 28: Being Free From Karma And Suffering |

Q: What is Samsara and how do we escape it?

A: The mind and ego, will never give up the identity of ME. The ego will always say, 'I am the best. I will do the best.' The 'I', 'me' and 'mine' is fuelled by the mind to keep the body, mind and ego trapped in this cycle of Samsara, death and rebirth. While we are aware of the misery caused by the mind and the agony caused by the ego, only a small fraction of us realize the infinite suffering they create for us, life after life.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 28: Being Free From Karma And Suffering |

Q: What does it mean to be a Divine Soul?

A: The Soul is none other than SIP, the Supreme Immortal Power that we call God. The journey of Realization reveals what the scriptures said thousands of years ago. The kingdom of God is within. God lives in the temple of our heart. 'Aham Brahmasmi!' 'Ek Onkar!' Whether it was Guru Nanak who said this or whether it has been stated in the Bible, the truth must be realized and it cannot be realized as long as the mind exists.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 27: The Journey Of Self-Discovery | Page 73

TOPIC: DEPRESSION & MENTAL HEALTH

Q: How does the mind lead to depression?

A: It is a choice, either we kill the mind or let the mind kill us. If toxic thoughts of the mind create aggression, it is quite possible that we can go into depression. The attack of these poisonous thoughts is so consistent and strong that it is common for us to think wrong. Fear, worry, stress and anxiety rob our peace and tranquillity and we are unable to be in that state of Consciousness where we can use our intellect to discriminate.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 14: Depression And Suicide | Page 44

Q: How does depression lead to suicidal thoughts?

A: My dear friend got paralyzed by his mind's toxic thoughts. One morning when his wife went to prepare a cup of tea for him, his mind pushed him beyond the state of depression into such a state of confusion that he went out into the balcony and jumped off the high-rise building. In a matter of moments, he was dead. The mind had poisoned his head. Haven't we heard of someone or even our own near and dear ones ending their lives due to depression?

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 14: Depression And Suicide | Page 44–45

Q: What is the connection between the mind and mental illness?

A: Today, more than ever before, the world is suffering because of the mind. There is so much mental illness because there is no stillness. The pandemonium created by the mind is causing depression and is leading people to suicide. The mind makes us a slave and we suffer till we reach our grave. We are not brave enough to kill the mind. The mind creates a trap and until we are able to block it, lock it, snatch it, catch it and latch it, the mind will continue to rob our peace.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Preface | Page 5

Q: What is the solution to depression?

A: If only we learn how to move from mind to Consciousness, how to flip from negative to positive, how to eliminate the mind which we cannot find, we can become the master of our thoughts and our life. We will live with inspiration and depression will be replaced with celebration. Yes, it's possible if we follow the right path of being in Consciousness. The mind is a monkey and we cannot control it until we make the monkey a monk.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 14: Depression And Suicide | Page 45

Q: How does overthinking lead to bad moods and depression?

A: Different reasons spoil our mood and make us overthink. Sometimes, it may be financial pressures and at other times, it may just be the news headlines or even the weather. All these can spoil our state of mind. But the biggest criminal is the mind itself. If every minute is filled with 50 toxic thoughts of the mind, how can we smile and be happy? The best way to overcome a bad mood and overthinking is to eliminate its triggers.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 13: Overthinking And Bad Mood | Page 43

Q: What is mood swing and how can we overcome it?

A: Do you suffer from overthinking? Do you often experience bad moods? If you are inflicted with mood swings, pause and look at the cause. It is the monkey mind that is swinging into the future and the past, and that is why your peace doesn't last! Either the aggression of overthinking makes you blast or the toxic thoughts that the mind envelops you with push you into depression, robbing all inspiration and wiping out all celebration from your life!

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 13: Overthinking And Bad Mood | Page 43

Q: What happens when someone feels life has no meaning?

A: Shesh cried in front of the doctor, 'My mind does not let me sleep! It makes me weep as I worry needlessly. I imagine all kinds of fears. Help me! My life has no meaning. Otherwise, give me some tablets so that I can end my life. I don't want to wake up every morning with worry and stress. My life is such a mess!' Is this an uncommon situation? Many of us are troubled by our mind, a mind that we have never seen. Still, it can kill us!

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 3: Have You Seen The Mind? | Page 15

Q: How can positive habits break the cycle of depression?

A: Neetu finally understood, after introspection and reflection, what was making her edgy. She decided to do something about it. She joined a book club. And after work, she would meet her group to discuss books, characters and authors. This rejuvenated her. She also made a new friend who was upbeat, cheerful and enthusiastic. Her new-found hobby and her friend's positive nature started impacting her. Her life started to change. She was no more sick or depressed.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 13: Overthinking And Bad Mood | Page 43

Q: What stages lead from toxic thoughts to suicidal feelings?

A: We must cut its tail, the EY. Its Ever-Yelling and Ever-Yearning behaviour must stop. Otherwise, the aggression of toxic thoughts will lead many into depression. If we don't take charge of our mind when it is in a state of irritation and causing mood swings, we may be poisoned by our thoughts and start feeling that life is worthless. These stages may lead us to thoughts of ending our life too. Isn't it time to wipe out the pessimism, hopelessness and the fatigue caused by the toxic mind?

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 14: Depression And Suicide | Page 45

Q: Why does the mind keep some people in permanent depression?

A: Not everybody contemplates suicide but many people live depressing lives. Their depression makes life worthless because the mind causes them to be helpless. It doesn't give a chance to someone with a mental illness to bring back stillness, peace and joy. It is like a record in a record player gets stuck and plays the same music again and again — the mind paralyzed by toxic thoughts keeps repeating the same anguish, preventing any peace.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 14: Depression And Suicide | Page 44–45

Q: How can we transform depression into celebration?

A: Charlie was a happy man. What made him happy? Every day, he would wake up and say, 'I choose to be happy today!' Whoever he met, he would tell them, 'Smile. Be cheerful.' He was not a millionaire but when it came to Happiness, he was a billionaire. What was his secret? He chose to live with optimism, with positivity, with courage and confidence. His life was full of enthusiasm, faith, hope, belief and trust. He made one simple choice — the choice to be happy.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 5: The Raw Material Of The Thought Factory |

Q: What is the relationship between stress and physical health?

A: Sudharshan was constantly irritated and angry. He found faults with everybody around him. His chronic stress started manifesting in physical sickness. What was the problem? Sudharshan was allowing negative and toxic emotions to fill his life. He was choosing to live with anger, hate and jealousy because he was letting his mind and ego dominate his choice of emotions. He enjoyed no peace and tranquillity.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 5: The Raw Material Of The Thought Factory |

Q: Why is stillness the cure for mental illness?

A: The whole world talks of mental illness and the importance of stillness. We talk of meditation and silence but will this kill the mind? It will only pause it. We need to get to the cause. We must get to the root and uproot the mind. Meditation and silence are good ways to reduce MTR, the Mental Thought Rate but unless we lock ourselves in Consciousness, we cannot escape from MK-50. The way to escape the monster MK-50 is to put the brakes and then, make a U-turn.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 22: How To Escape The MK-50 | Page 61

Q: How does the thought chain lead to depression?

A: Thoughts create feelings. Feelings create actions. Actions create habits that create our character. This becomes our destiny. The thought chain can be intercepted by the mind. Every time we choose positive emotions, it can be countered by toxic emotions and thoughts of the mind. It is by default that the mind seems to establish itself in our head. Unless we eliminate the mind and it is dead, we cannot take charge of our thought chain and our destiny.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 6: The Thought Chain | Page 21

Q: What is the magic formula to escape a bad mood?

A: The next time you are in a bad mood, snap out of that toxic thought chain and regain Consciousness in which you can choose positive emotions and choose Happiness. People don't realize that thoughts create feelings that create actions. But sometimes, you can reverse it. If you act happy, you can think happy and feel happy. But for this, you have to first kill the mind. If you do not still the mind, it will create such a pandemonium of disastrous thoughts.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 6: The Thought Chain | Page 22

TOPIC: SELF-REALIZATION & ENLIGHTENMENT

Q: What is Self-Realization?

A: The journey of Self-Realization will not only help us overcome all ignorance created by the mind but it will also take us to the state of Eternal Peace, Divine Love and Everlasting Bliss. Self-Realization is that quest which asks the questions, 'Who am I? Where did I come from? Where will I go? What is my purpose?' When we ask these questions, the mind stops us from finding out the answers. This is because the moment we Realize the Truth, the mind ceases to exist.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 27: The Journey Of Self-Discovery | Page 72

Q: Who are we, really?

A: All these Saints Awakened to the Truth that we are not the body that will die. We are not the mind that we cannot find. The ego is Enlightened to realize that we are the Soul, the Spark Of Unique Life. The Soul is none other than SIP, the Supreme Immortal Power that we call God. The journey of Realization reveals what the scriptures said thousands of years ago. The kingdom of God is within. God lives in the temple of our heart.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 27: The Journey Of Self-Discovery | Page 73

Q: What is the purpose of this human birth?

A: Life has a purpose. There is a reason why we came to earth. There is a profound purpose for this human birth. Unfortunately, because of the mind, we cannot find this purpose. We live and we die, we suffer and we cry. The purpose of life is to discover the purpose of life and if we don't attain self-discovery or Realization, we will suffer and cry, live and die, only to return to earth in a rebirth, and the cycle will go on and on.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 29, 27 | Page 76, 73

Q: What is Enlightenment?

A: AiR spells the words 'Happy' and 'Happiness' with 3 Ps, because he has realized that True Happiness is evolving from Pleasure from achievement, to Peace from fulfillment and ultimately to Purpose from Enlightenment. This is to live a life of True Happiness! Enlightenment is the ultimate purpose of life. It means MIND — Misery, Ignorance, Negativity and Desire — is replaced by the intellect, the ego is Awakened, and we live in Consciousness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | About The Author, Chapter 19 | Page 1, 55

Q: How did the author experience Awakening?

A: The moment I was Awakened, I realized that there was no mind. It was just a bundle of toxic thoughts that were accumulating as the MIND — Misery, Ignorance, Negativity and Desires. Did I want any of this? Of course not. I shot down the toxic thoughts and behold, there was no mind! I started to live a life of peace, bliss and joy.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Afterword | Page 80

Q: What question leads to Self-Realization?

A: To Awaken the ego, we must ask the simple question, 'Who am I? Am I this body that will die?' The answer stares us in the face. When the ego that says, 'I,' questions, 'Who is this 'I'?' then, the ego is Enlightened. The ego realizes that I am not the body that will die. I am not the mind that nobody could find. But I exist. Who am I? I am the Soul, the Spark Of Unique Life. When the ego realizes this, the ego is Awakened.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 26: How To Enlighten The Ego | Page 71

Q: What did Robert learn about his true identity?

A: Robert came from America to India searching for the purpose of life. He met a Saint and told him that he wanted to find out life's purpose. The Saint asked him, 'Who are you?' After many attempts — name, nationality, profession, relationships, financial status — Robert was flabbergasted. He fell on his knees and told the Saint, 'That's why I am here! Please help me discover myself. Help me find my purpose.' The Saint began explaining that our purpose is to discover who we are and to be free from this cycle of Samsara.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 29: Nirvana And Moksha | Page 76–77

Q: How is Moksha different from ordinary happiness?

A: Nirvana or Moksha means Self-Realization — I am the Soul. It means God Realization — The Soul is SIP, the Supreme Immortal Power. Therefore, I am a manifestation of SIP. I am not 'I'. I will never die. When the body dies, I will become one with SIP, the Supreme Immortal Power. As long as the wave believes that it is a wave, it will never realize that it is the ocean. As long as we remain in duality caused by the mind, we will suffer.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 29: Nirvana And Moksha | Page 77

Q: What is the role of the mind in blocking Enlightenment?

A: The journey of self-discovery is the key. When we kill the mind, we become free from ignorance. The ego is Awakened because there is nobody to fool us into believing that we are the body, the mind or the ego. The truth must be realized and it cannot be realized as long as the mind exists. The purpose of the mind is to block our Realization. We have a choice — either we kill the mind and realize the truth or the mind kills us, destroys us and makes us suffer.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 27: The Journey Of Self-Discovery | Page 72–73

Q: What is the highest state of happiness?

A: How can we live with Eternal Happiness? SatChitAnanda is a state of Eternal Happiness. It is Eternal Peace, Divine Love and Everlasting Bliss. When we kill the mind and the ego is Enlightened, we are established in truth Consciousness. If we can do this, we will experience Seamless Eternal Happiness. Our heart aches and our heart breaks because we have not discovered the ecstasy of True Love. In reality, the Soul flows with the joy of peace, love and bliss.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 30: Living In SatChitAnanda | Page 78–79

Q: How does the Soul relate to the Supreme?

A: We are Divine Souls but we are trapped in the ignorance of the mind and so, we suffer. The Master explained how the body comes from the 5 elements and returns to the elements. The mind doesn't exist. The reality is that we are Divine Souls. Our goal is to become one with SIP, the Supreme Immortal Power. What we appear to be is not the reality. We are Divine energy trapped in ignorance created by the mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 28: Being Free From Karma And Suffering |

Q: How did the author dedicate his life after Enlightenment?

A: Now that I am established in Consciousness, I live as a peaceful monk. There is no more junk of the rascal, the monkey that was jumping to yesterday and tomorrow. I live in the present moment, with peace, as I have cut off the tail of the monkey that was Ever-Yelling and Ever-Yearning, and tamed it into a monk. Being the master of the erstwhile mind, I have dedicated my life to helping people overcome the illusory mind. My mission is to help people be free from all suffering on earth and from the cycle of rebirth.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Afterword | Page 82

Q: What is the relationship between True Love and Self-Realization?

A: We love from skin to skin, without realizing that True Love is from the Soul within. Again, it is the mind that makes Love create suffering. In reality, the Soul flows with the joy of peace, love and bliss. But we do not experience this because of the mind. The mind robs us of our peace and fills us with ignorance and so, our life becomes a mess with the mind's stress. When we Enlighten the ego and realize that there is no mind, we live with SatChitAnanda.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 30: Living In SatChitAnanda | Page 79

Q: What can we learn from Sunil's encounter with an Enlightened Master?

A: When Sunil told an Enlightened Master that this world was beautiful and he would like to return to do good work, to serve humanity, the Master explained to Sunil that he was being fooled by his mind. The mind wants to bind us in Karma. It wants to stop us from the Realization that we are the Divine Soul. Our goal is to become one with SIP, the Supreme Immortal Power. Sunil was one blessed seeker who Awakened to the Truth of the suffering caused by the mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 28: Being Free From Karma And Suffering |

Q: What is the final goal of human life?

A: The purpose of life is to discover the purpose of life and if we don't attain self-discovery or Realization, we will suffer and cry, live and die, only to return to earth in a rebirth. What is the way out? Still the mind! Kill the mind! The mind that we cannot find must be left behind. The ego must be Enlightened. To attain Moksha or Nirvana, we must kill the mind. The ego must be Enlightened. Then, we will achieve the ultimate purpose of life, the ultimate goal.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 27, 29 | Page 73, 77

TOPIC: POSITIVE THINKING & EMOTIONS

Q: What is the thought chain and how does it work?

A: Thoughts create feelings. Feelings create actions. Actions create habits that create our character. This becomes our destiny. Therefore, is it thoughts that lead to our destiny? Yes! Undoubtedly! But what creates thoughts? To complete the thought chain, we must realize that the raw material is emotions, which we can choose. We cannot directly choose our thoughts but once we choose our emotions, the thought chain unfolds.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 6: The Thought Chain | Page 21

Q: How can we choose positive emotions?

A: If only we eliminate the mind and its toxic thoughts, we can move to a state of awareness or Consciousness and use our intellect to choose positive emotions. These emotions become the raw material that will produce positive thoughts. In fact, if we fill our head with positive thoughts, we will slowly but surely eliminate our mind and its toxic thoughts from our life. All this depends on who the director of our thought factory is.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 5: The Raw Material Of The Thought Factory |

Q: What are positive emotions that create power?

A: Consider emotions like faith, hope, trust, belief, enthusiasm, courage, confidence, compassion, forgiveness, love, kindness, peace and optimism. Just reading these emotions will release positive chemicals into our blood. When we choose PEP, we have made a conscious choice to live with these emotions. At every turn in life, we will resolve to live with these positive emotions. But is this enough? No, it's not. We have to eliminate NEP.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 8: How To Think Positive All The Time | Page

Q: What is the thought factory and how does it work?

A: Our mind is like a thought factory. It produces thoughts based on what we feed it. If the toxic thoughts of our mind rule our life and there is always fear, worry, stress and anxiety, these will create negative feelings that in turn, will crystallize into negative emotions, the raw material that will produce future thoughts. Thoughts are real things. They are impulses, like electrical signals. They are expressions which arise out of emotional impressions in our Consciousness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 5: The Raw Material Of The Thought Factory |

Q: Why do negative emotions naturally dominate?

A: By default, if we let the mind take charge of our life, it will only choose negative emotions and the result will be negative thoughts. It is easy for the mind to choose negative emotions like regret, guilt and shame. This spoils our life game. We get caught in the vicious cycle of negative thoughts, feelings and emotions. There is no way to break this negative cycle until we kill the mind.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 5: The Raw Material Of The Thought Factory |

Q: How does Charlie stay happy all the time?

A: Charlie was a happy man. What made him happy? Every day, he would wake up and say, 'I choose to be happy today!' He would sing to himself: 'I choose to be happy today, No matter what people say. Though the skies may be cloudy and grey, Despite what comes my way, I will be happy today!' Charlie was doing something very magical. He was choosing positive emotions that became the basis of his thoughts, his life.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 5: The Raw Material Of The Thought Factory |

Q: Can we control our thoughts directly?

A: Can we stop thinking? If somebody were to challenge you, 'Stop thinking!' would you be able to stop? Maybe for a short while but just like we can't stop breathing, we can't stop thinking. We can't control thoughts but we can control the raw material that goes into our thought factory. These are Emotions — Energy in Motion. If we make it a conscious choice to choose PEP, Positive Emotions that create Power, we are feeding our Consciousness with the raw material that will produce positive thoughts.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Introduction, Chapter 8 | Page 6–7, 25

Q: What is the Law of Attraction and what is its secret?

A: Of course, the Law of Attraction works. But we must look deeper to discover what lies within attraction. The magic is action. If you remove the word 'action' from attraction, what is left is 'attr' — A Thought That Roams. The mind makes us believe that we can attract anything. Is this true? Unfortunately, it's not. Until we use the thought chain with visualization that has passion, attraction will remain a dream. The key takeaway is to realize that the mind stops us from all positive attraction.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 7: Attraction And Manifestation | Page 23

Q: What is the importance of visualization in manifestation?

A: Renuka was manifesting opening a chain of nail studios all over the country. She kept dreaming about it and wishing it. But nothing happened. She was lazy and her visualization was weak. She had a dream but she did not create a team or plan a scheme and put the required beam to support the dream. Her attraction lacked action and without action, there can be no manifestation. Each of us chooses a different destination.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 7: Attraction And Manifestation | Page 24

Q: How does Anita take charge of her thought chain?

A: Anita was determined to take charge of her life. She realized that she had to choose positive emotions over negative. Whenever she chose courage, confidence, faith and hope, she had optimistic thoughts. She felt good and positive actions followed. But she noticed that whenever she did not choose positivity, the negative toxic thoughts of her mind would make her mood bad. She learned the secret. And she knew that she must choose positive emotions if she wanted to be happy.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 6: The Thought Chain | Page 22

Q: How can we reverse a bad mood through action?

A: People don't realize that thoughts create feelings that create actions. But sometimes, you can reverse it. If you act happy, you can think happy and feel happy. But for this, you have to first kill the mind. If you do not still the mind, it will create such a pandemonium of disastrous thoughts that right from your thoughts to feelings and actions — everything will be miserable. The next time you are in a bad mood, snap out of that toxic thought chain and regain Consciousness.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 6: The Thought Chain | Page 22

Q: What is the role of hope and faith in overcoming the mind?

A: We can choose the raw material that will determine the quality of our thoughts. However, by default, if we let the mind take charge of our life, it will only choose negative emotions and the result will be negative thoughts. If only we choose positive emotions like faith, hope, trust, belief, enthusiasm, courage and confidence, we can eliminate our mind and its toxic thoughts from our life.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 5, 8 | Page 20, 25–26

Q: What did the author do to live a positive life?

A: I learned the trick. I resolved to live with PEP. At every opportunity in life, I chose PEP. I made PEP the manager of my thought factory. I fired NEP! I eliminated the mind, the rascal that was constantly producing negative thoughts. Thus, having no negative thoughts, there were no negative feelings or actions. I locked myself in Consciousness and used my intellect to choose only positive emotions, the raw material for positive thoughts. The result, I lived a positive, happy life.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 8: How To Think Positive All The Time | Page 26

Q: How do we become the master of our thought factory?

A: All this depends on who the director of our thought factory is. If the director of our thought factory is Mr. Positive, we will choose positive emotions. But if Mr. Negative, the mind, becomes our director of production, it will feed negative emotions and produce negative thoughts. Ultimately, we have a choice. If we don't kill the mind and choose positive emotions, the mind will kill us by choosing negative emotions. Once it takes charge of our life, our life will be a disaster. It's time to become the master.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 5: The Raw Material Of The Thought Factory |

Q: What is the ultimate destination of positive thinking?

A: Each of us chooses a different destination. So, we have a different and distinct path and direction. We use attraction or manifestation with our dreams. But ultimately, we need Illumination. We need Realization. If we let the mind take charge of our life, we will manifest all the wrong things. We may seek pleasure and achievement but the real treasure is fulfillment and Enlightenment. The challenge is not to let the mind fool us into attraction and manifestation.

Source: Kill The Mind Before The Mind Kills You | Chapter 7: Attraction And Manifestation | Page 24