

SUCCESS IS NOT HAPPINESS HAPPINESS IS SUCCESS

TOPIC: SUCCESS

Q: What is Success?

A: Success is Achievement. It is a fulfillment of desires. It is the shooting of a goal. While Success is a simple word, it is very complicated to understand why Success sometimes creates Happiness and occasionally, makes us miserable. True Success, actually, is that sense of peace, joy, and bliss that comes after the accomplishment. If the achievement doesn't give that sense of tranquillity and ecstasy, then is it really Success?

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 2-3

Q: Why is Success different for different people?

A: Success is not the same for everybody. When Michelangelo was painting his famous piece of art in the Sistine Chapel, his friends wanted to spend some fun time together. To him, Success was different. Thus, comes the saying, 'One man's food is another one's poison.' What Success is to me, may mean nothing to you. Why? Because the outcome of my Success makes me Happy, but the same doesn't give you fulfillment. Thus, Success is different to different people, only because different people don't find the same Happiness in a specific achievement.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 4

Q: Is Success only about money and wealth?

A: The world, generally, thinks that money is Success and so is achievement of name and fame. But a deeper peek into Success will reveal that Success has a more profound objective. No doubt that Success is achievement, but of what? Is it an achievement of misery? Of course not! It is the achievement of joy. If some Success or achievement made you sad rather than glad, would you call it Success? Success is Success when it generates Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 4-5

Q: What happens when Success becomes a habit?

A: The biggest problem with Success is that it becomes a habit. A winner must always win and his misery starts with the psychological pressure that comes from being a winner. He has far more stress in protecting his title of Success than the joy he gets from achieving it. Of what use is such an achievement if it creates more stress than Happiness? The winners can't take losing as an option. If they lose, they seem to drown in an ocean of misery.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 5

Q: What is the master secret of Success?

A: While there may be several secrets behind Success that successful people imbibed, there is one secret that is the master secret. It is this — Success is not Happiness, Happiness is Success. A very few of the most successful people in the world have discovered this secret. This is absolutely true but difficult to believe. Success is Achievement but Success is not always Happiness. Because Success, sometimes, causes misery, it is safe to say that Success is not Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 6-7

Q: Why do people want to succeed?

A: The real reason why we want Success is that we get tremendous joy when we achieve Success — whoever it is, whatever be the goal. If there is no Happiness, then we would not chase Success as if our life depends on it. Whatever be the achievement, it is pursued because of the fulfillment it derives on accomplishment. All of humanity is born to seek Happiness. That is why we are all on a journey called 'Success'.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 10-11

Q: Are only successful people truly happy?

A: If we look around us, what do we find? Who are the truly Happy ones? Are they the only ones who are successful? Various studies have indicated that while Success delivers a sense of achievement, people pursuing Success are stressed out. On the other hand, we find people who are not very successful but who are moderate achievers, living with far more peace and joy. Why is this so? Because they live with contentment. While successful people are ruled by their greed, the ones who are content are satisfied with the fulfillment of their needs and they enjoy peace.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 14-15

Q: What is the true definition of a successful person?

A: What is the point in having a lot of money in the bank but no smile on our face? Success is not a game of numbers. The truly successful people in the world are those achievers who are also Happy. If Success is surrounded by worry, stress, envy, hate, and jealousy, how could such Success create Happiness? People with little Success have tons of Happiness, just as people who have tons of Success, live with little peace and joy.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 15

Q: How can greed destroy the joy of Success?

A: Man is a slave of his own greed and his own desire for more makes him miserable. Man is not able to say 'enough'. He doesn't know how much is enough because he lives in a bottomless well. He is never content or satisfied. An ordinary person starts his life-journey and tastes Success. It gives him a lot of Happiness and so he desires more Success and becomes passionate about it. He doesn't realize that the initial taste of Happiness is lost as he becomes a slave to his own cravings and desires.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 26, 33

Q: How does the pursuit of Success lead to regret?

A: We see many successful men living with regret. Though they are called successful and termed as winners, they have no sense of contentment and fulfillment. They hide and cry to themselves, as they are not satisfied with their life. First, they were driving Success, but before they could realize it, Success started driving them and they lost control of their life. Though they are successful, they are unhappy. They spend their life protecting their wealth, empire, name and fame, and their life ends doing this.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 26-28

Q: Can Success actually create unhappiness?

A: While we all want Happiness and we misunderstand that Success will give us Happiness, we don't realize that Success can actually make us unhappy. Success becomes like a drug and because we are addicted to it, we become miserable. We must view Success with the right perspective and realize that it may give us pleasure, but it can never give us eternal Happiness. Success is Success. Success is not Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 34, 37

Q: Is it wrong to pursue Success at all?

A: After reading this far, one may start thinking that Success is a curse. This is not so. There is nothing wrong with achieving noteworthy Success. But human psychology is such that we get trapped in the whirlpool of Success. Of course, achieving Success causes pleasure and Happiness. We must view Success with the right perspective and realize that it may give us pleasure, but it can never give us eternal Happiness. While there is nothing wrong in succeeding and enjoying the rewards of Success, we must beware the trap that will make us sink deep into Desire, Passion, Stress, Worry, and Fear.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 37

Q: What does Success promise versus what it actually delivers?

A: In the beginning, when Success appears on the horizon, there is so much Happiness, joy, and peace. But thereafter, we lose these gifts to Success. We think that more Success will bring more Happiness. But we don't realize that after a point, Success starts to steal the very Happiness it promised us in the first place. Like a yo-yo, we go up and down in our Happiness-index. Like a pendulum, we swing from joy to sorrow, irrespective of how much Success we achieve.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 17-18

Q: Why does Success create stress and fear?

A: Success and stress are synonymous. Every state of Success starting from desire, and ending with protecting our Success carries so much stress, worry, and fear, that the very Success that was meant to make us Happy, unfortunately, makes us unhappy. Ask any successful person and they will admit that Success, in fact, steals our peace of mind, as it creates so much stress and pressure. A stressful mind is not peaceful and a mind that is not peaceful is not blissful.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 75, 78

Q: What is the merry-go-round of Success?

A: Success is a merry-go-round. No doubt we pass pleasure, but soon there will be pain. There will be sunshine just as there will be rain. In every Success, there will be loss and gain, but we must remind ourselves, again and again, that Success is not Happiness. Success is Success and being successful is a great feeling, but eventually, it doesn't bring us eternal Happiness and tranquillity. In fact, being on this merry-go-round, finally makes us lose our peace and live a life of stress, worry, and fear.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 36

TOPIC: HAPPINESS

Q: What is Happiness?

A: Happiness is a state of being Happy. One look at a person and you can make out whether they are Happy or not. The smile on their face and the enthusiasm in the aura they carry, express their state of Happiness. Those who think that Happiness is a destination are mistaken. Happiness is the journey itself. You can't have Happiness. It is not something to possess. You can't go to Happiness, it is not a place. You can't buy Happiness, it is not a product. You can only be Happy. It is a state of being.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 40-41

Q: Why do different things make different people happy?

A: What makes me Happy need not make you Happy. Different things make different people Happy and this changes as time changes. What makes us Happy as kids doesn't make us Happy as we grow up. Thus Happiness differs for men and boys, depending on the choice of their toys. As men grow up, again their preference changes. Such is Happiness! What gives Happiness to Americans may not give Happiness to the Chinese just as the Happiness triggers of men are different from women.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 41-42

Q: How is a smile connected to happiness?

A: While different things make different people Happy, the one thing that appears on all Happy people is a smile. We human beings are designed in such a way that when we are Happy, we tend to smile. A smile has no price tag. Can you go to a supermarket and buy a smile? If your heart is broken, even your favourite food will not bring a smile to your face. Thus, a smile is priceless. It is magical because it costs nothing, but if you give it to somebody, it can make them smile in return.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 42

Q: Why is laughter the best medicine?

A: Laughter is a tonic. Any doctor will tell you how important it is to laugh. It boosts the immune system. Laughter decreases stress hormones and it strengthens cells that increase our immunity. Laughter creates antibodies that can fight infections in the body. Laughter improves our resistance to diseases. Science has proved that laughter triggers the release of endorphins, chemicals known to give our body a 'feel good' factor. Therefore, laughter is the best medicine for stress, worry, and tension. But can everyone laugh? Only Happy people laugh.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 43-44

Q: How does worry and anxiety steal our happiness?

A: Instead of smiling and laughing, people unnecessarily worry and live with stress and tension. Typical human beings live like pendulums — they swing into the past and live with regrets. They nurse, curse, and rehearse their hurts. The pendulum of their life then swings to the future. They live with FEAR — False Expectations Appearing Real. They confuse their imaginary fears to be real dangers and worry endlessly. What does this swinging like a pendulum do? It steals our Happiness and robs our smile.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 44

Q: Is money or wealth directly proportional to happiness?

A: People are unable to be truly Happy because they do not know what true Happiness is. They confuse pleasure to be Happiness, just as they think money or wealth is directly proportionate to being Happy. This is a myth. Happiness is an emotion that is not directly connected to money or to achievement. I know of people who do not have much money in the bank, but they are smile-millionaires. They always smile and are happier than many who are wealthier than them in material terms.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 43, 45

Q: What is true happiness?

A: True Happiness is beyond achievement. It is contentment and fulfillment. The richest man in the world is not the happiest man. There are people who may not be so wealthy financially, but they are happier than the millionaires. Those who are in the pursuit of Happiness, evolve and learn the true meaning of Happiness. They don't let greed overtake their need. They live every moment with joy, living in the NOW, moment by moment, being Happy and making other people Happy. Happiness is a journey, not a destination.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 45

Q: Can happiness be achieved all the time?

A: While people may think it is impossible to be Happy all the time, the Truth is we can. Happiness is not a complicated matter. We unnecessarily complicate it. Compare somebody whose life is content and fulfilled. They have no desires or cravings. They have no greed and they have fulfilled their need. Their life is full of peace and Happiness. There is no doubt that they are Happy all the time — this is guaranteed if they live their life moment by moment, peacefully and blissfully, without jumping into the rat race of the world.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 76-77

Q: How is happiness like a shadow?

A: Have you ever observed a shadow? The more we go towards it, the more it runs away. Such is Happiness. The more we chase Happiness, the more elusive it is. We can't catch our shadow and so also, we can't catch Happiness. We can't achieve Happiness. But just like we can be with our shadow if we remain still, it doesn't run away — so is also true of Happiness. If we are still and peaceful, Happiness remains with us. But if we go behind it, it is an unending chase.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 91

Q: Where does true happiness actually lie?

A: Such is our life. Happiness is within us. We can enjoy eternal peace and everlasting joy, realizing the Truth, but we keep seeking Happiness outside when it lies within us. We search for external Success when the reward of such Success — 'Peace and Joy' — lies within us, in our heart and Soul. We live like the musk deer in the Himalayas, roaming in pursuit of the musk fragrance that actually comes from within its own navel. Isn't it time to realize the Truth?

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 93-94

Q: What is the relationship between peace and happiness?

A: Truly Happy people will vouch for this — where there is no peace, there can be no Happiness and we don't need Success to be peaceful. In fact, the struggle for Success creates turmoil. Peace is the foundation of Happiness. Success steals our peace of mind as it creates so much stress and pressure. A stressful mind is not peaceful and a mind that is not peaceful is not blissful. If we want true Happiness, we must build our life on a foundation of peace, not Success.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 75-76

Q: Why do we confuse pleasure with happiness?

A: Only fools will deny that Success creates pleasure. But greater fools would be those people who think that the pleasure from Success gives eternal Happiness. Material pleasures make us Happy for the moment, but not beyond that. Soon, we start seeking something else and that pleasure which gave joy, evaporates like mist in the morning Sun. The momentary excitement delivered by Success creates short-term Happiness, only to make us thirsty for more at the end of the road. The end result is that Success makes us thirsty for more and more and leaves us there.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 32

Q: Is happiness a destination or a journey?

A: Unlike what most people believe, Happiness is a journey, not a destination. We evolve in our Happiness journey, first as we grow from kids to adults and then again as we climb the peak of Happiness. For a poor man, a meal is Happiness, but not for a rich man. We evolve as human beings depending on so many factors — our financial status, our social circumstance, our age, gender, family and many such factors. Happiness is not a destination. People on the journey to Success don't realize this and treat Happiness as a goal, a place to arrive at.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 50

Q: How does contentment lead to happiness?

A: Happy are those who are content with their achievement. While successful people are ruled by their greed, this drives them to work like slaves. The ones who are content are satisfied with the fulfillment of their needs and they enjoy peace that is far more fulfilling than the pleasure Success delivers. If successful, rich, and famous people were truly Happy, then we wouldn't hear of so many suicides in the homes of the millionaires in the world. The truly successful people in the world are those achievers who are also Happy, content, and at peace.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 15, 20

Q: What is the formula for happiness?

A: We believe Success = Happiness. But this is not true. The right formula is, Happiness = Success. Yes, it is absolutely true that those who are Happy, are already successful. They don't need to succeed. They have already achieved the very objective of Success — to be Happy. Then where is the need to be an achiever, to succeed? Learn this secret — Success is not Happiness, Happiness is Success — and live your life with Peace, Joy, and Bliss, rather than just living in a Maze trying to be an Ace, in a Chase that is just a Rat-Race!

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 124 (Back Cover)

Q: What role does desire play in the pursuit of success?

A: Nobody can succeed without a desire to succeed. You cannot wish for Success and be successful. You must really want it. Unless there is a burning desire, Success will elude us. Does desire actually create Happiness? To the blind aspirant of Success, it does. But to any onlooker, it is clear beyond doubt that desire creates ripples of anxiety and worry. It steals our peace of mind. The desire places inside us a virtual high-speed motor that increases our speed of thought and action.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 22

Q: How does desire lead to disappointment?

A: Does every desire end in Success? Of course not! Some desires are fulfilled and some are not. Man, however, due to his overconfidence and passion thinks he is capable of making anything possible. When desires are not accomplished, these lead to tremendous disappointments and this dejection creates a lot of misery and sorrow. Therefore, while desire is a key to Success, it eventually guarantees to make us miserable. Desires that make us miserable are mostly those that are controlled by our greed and passion.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 25

Q: Why is greed the enemy of happiness?

A: Man is a slave of his own greed and his own desire for more makes him miserable. Man is not able to say 'enough'. In fact, he doesn't know how much is enough because he lives in a bottomless well. He is never content or satisfied. An ordinary person tastes Success. It gives him a lot of Happiness and so he desires more Success. He doesn't realize that the initial taste of Happiness is lost as he becomes a slave to his own cravings and desires. He lives a life of fear and anxiety, stress and worry.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 26, 33

Q: When does need become greed?

A: Most unfortunately, the biggest problem with Success is that it becomes a habit. First, man enjoyed fulfilling his needs. It gave him tremendous Happiness. But then, greed became his master and his own desires flogged him to achieve Success one after the other. His passion makes him so blind that he doesn't realize this until he reaches the end of his life. Then man regrets and says, 'If I had my life to live over again, I would spend more time doing the things I love.' We see many successful men living with regret.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 26-27

Q: What is the constant expectation trap of Success?

A: Why is it that Happiness is guaranteed Success, but Success is not guaranteed Happiness? This is because when we want Success, we expect more and more. Of course, we try our best. We use the best equipment and put in our best efforts. But sometimes, there is an unknown factor that controls the results of our actions. Our expectations are not fulfilled. We become miserable and unhappy. But in being Happy, we don't expect, we accept. We surrender to the divine will. Our life is not controlled by desires and cravings. Therefore, there are no disappointments.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 90

Q: Why is the desire for more an unending chain?

A: Success creates pleasure but it doesn't last. The momentary excitement delivered by Success creates short-term Happiness, only to make us thirsty for more at the end of the road. The end result is that Success makes us thirsty for more and more and leaves us there. We all think that more Success will bring more Happiness. We don't realize that after a point, Success starts to steal the very Happiness it promised us. In the beginning, there is joy and peace. But thereafter, we lose these gifts to Success.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 17-18, 32

Q: How does passion for success make one blind?

A: Passion for Success makes us blind and while it is an important key to unlock the doors of Success, it can also be a torch to burn our Happiness. Recently, a young millionaire who was detected with cancer quoted from his hospital bed, 'If only I had spent my time spending my money, rather than making it, I would have died a happier man!' While it is good to desire Success and be passionate about our goals, we must be conscious of the Truth. What are we truly seeking?

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 24

Q: What is a desire-driven life like?

A: It seems that people all over the world are seeking Success, and with the achievement of it, a sense of pleasure, joy, and Happiness. The desire for Success creates agitation and the achievement of that desire takes us back to our original state of peace and bliss. The desire for Success can create misery when the goal is not achieved. Then, we lose our peace and joy, which we originally enjoyed. Somehow, we believe that without Success there is no Happiness. This is a myth, an illusion.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 6

Q: Why does one who seeks nothing find happiness?

A: In ancient India, a wealthy king could not find happiness despite having all riches. Finally, he found a man who was supposed to have no misery. Though the king tried to buy his shirt with a lot of money and jewels, the man could not be bought. He was blissful and content. When the king asked his secret, the man explained: 'I am fully content and satisfied. I seek nothing — that is my secret. You are seeking something all the time. This time, you are seeking Happiness, that is why you are unhappy.' The constant desire of achieving something is the root cause of unhappiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 91-92

Q: What is the difference between expecting and accepting?

A: In Success we expect. In Happiness we accept. When we want Success, we expect more and more. Sometimes, there is an unknown factor that controls the results of our actions. Our expectations are not fulfilled and we become miserable. But in being Happy, we don't expect, we accept. We surrender to the divine will. Our life is not controlled by desires and cravings. Therefore, there are no disappointments, no misery, and sorrow. We live in a state of peace, bliss, and joy. This difference of accepting rather than expecting is what makes Happiness guarantee Success.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 90

Q: Can a person be rich and still be bankrupt?

A: What a pity that Success can actually make one so miserable! And the worst part is this — these so-called millionaires and billionaires do not realize that they are truly bankrupt! They may have all the money in the world, but they have no Happiness in their heart! One day on a busy street, a man of wisdom asked a billionaire to observe a man pulling a cow. The sage showed him that the businessman was like the cow's caretaker — running behind his wealth, a slave to it though it seemed otherwise. He decided to shut shop and pursue true Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 34-35

Q: What does humanity gain by chasing Success all its life?

A: Our life is a gift and lasts just for a few decades. The goal of life is to be Happy, not successful. Unfortunately, because we live believing the myth that Success is Happiness, we spend our entire life chasing Success. We live and die like the musk deer. In the Himalayas, this deer roams in pursuit of the musk fragrance. This fragrance actually comes from the musk that is inside its own navel. But the musk deer is ignorant of this fact. The fragrance inspires it to look for the musk all through its life till eventually, it falls from the dangerously high cliffs and dies.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 93

Q: How do desires create a cycle of joy and sorrow?

A: The reason we are so excited to succeed is because of the exhilaration it assures us of, the excitement it delivers and ultimately, the Happiness it promises. It starts with the desire to succeed which is followed up with a lot of effort till ultimately, we win or we lose. No one wins all the time, isn't it? Therefore, life is like a merry-go-round and we go around in circles. Just like the earth experiences day and night, we too experience being glad and sad as we go round and round in pursuit of Success experiencing failures too.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 12

Q: Is it wise to earn wealth for future generations?

A: Some people want to earn money for their children and grandchildren. Ask yourself — do you know the name of the great grandfather of your great grandfather? Chances are you don't. Does it make sense that we spend our entire life acquiring Success for people who won't even know our name? Shouldn't we rather spend our lives being Happy, and doing what makes us Happy? Isn't it time to stop and to realize the Truth? Should we zoom from womb to tomb, chasing Success or should we live moment by moment in peace, bliss, and joy?

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 88-89

Q: How does the fisherman's story illustrate happiness without desire?

A: A wealthy businessman once saw a fisherman sitting beside his boat, playing with a small child. The businessman told him that with extra effort, he could build a fleet of boats and be rich. 'Then what would I do?' asked the fisherman. 'Then you could really enjoy life,' said the businessman. The fisherman looked at him with a puzzled expression and asked, 'What do you think I am doing now?' The businessman was speechless. The fisherman was already Happy. He didn't want to spend his entire life like the rich businessman. He found his Happiness effortlessly and was far more peaceful and blissful.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 72-74

TOPIC 4: PEACE OF MIND

Q: Is peace the foundation of happiness?

A: Truly Happy people will vouch for this. Where there is no peace, there can be no Happiness and we don't need Success to be peaceful. In fact, the struggle for Success creates turmoil. Peace is the foundation of Happiness. Ask any successful person and they will admit that Success in fact, steals our peace of mind, as it creates so much stress and pressure. A stressful mind is not peaceful and a mind that is not peaceful is not blissful. If we want true Happiness, we must build our life on a foundation of peace not Success.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 75-76

Q: How does success steal peace of mind?

A: The rich and famous are also, at times, stressed in protecting their wealth and Success — be it money in the bank, past fame or title achieved — it takes a lot to protect these, and Happiness derived from achieving Success gets dissipated by the stress and fear caused to protect it. Success is Happiness is a paradox because Success ultimately creates unhappiness. Success eventually steals our peace and makes us unhappy. It is rare to find very wealthy and successful people living with humility and peace.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 15, 75

Q: Can we be at peace all the time even if not successful?

A: While we can be Happy all the time, we can't be successful all the time. This statement is true and doesn't have to be proved. Success is a journey of several peaks and we always have to come down to a valley to go to the next peak. While we cannot be successful all the time, we can be Happy all the time. Therefore, trying to use Success as an instrument to create Happiness is the wrong idea. We can be peaceful and Happy all the time.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 77

Q: What disturbs our peace — the past or the future?

A: Typical human beings live like pendulums — they swing into the past and live with regrets. They nurse, curse, and rehearse their hurts, although they can do nothing about it. The past is gone. It can't be changed. Still, people live in the past with stress and anxiety. The pendulum of their life then swings to the future. They live with FEAR — False Expectations Appearing Real. They confuse their imaginary fears to be real dangers and worry endlessly. This swinging like a pendulum steals our Happiness and robs our smile.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 44

Q: Why is a peaceful life more fulfilling than a successful one?

A: People on the second peak of Happiness, Fulfilment, are far happier as they are in a blissful and peaceful state. Their Happiness is greater than those pursuing the first peak of Happiness. They live with love and laughter, liberated from worldly possessions and from being overly attached to people. To them, freedom is far more valuable than money in the bank. They live moment by moment, not regretting the past and worrying about the future. Their philosophy is that Happiness is the journey. There is no Destination called Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 54-55

Q: How can we be peaceful no matter what happens?

A: It is up to us to make a choice. We can choose to be successful, living like a yo-yo that goes up and then down, swinging from Happiness to unhappiness, or we can live a life of contentment and fulfillment, doing our best and accepting life as it comes as we float like a cloud in the sky, in surrender and acceptance, peaceful and blissful. The choice is ours! After all, it doesn't take too much to be Happy, and if we are committed to it, we can be Happy no matter what.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 79

Q: Does money buy peace of mind?

A: Just like money can buy a bed, but not sleep; it can buy medicine, but not health; it can buy a diamond ring, but not love — Success can create excitement, but it cannot give us the peace and bliss that true Happiness brings. When we look at successful people, they may be proud of their achievements — living in posh villas, driving expensive cars — but many of them lack a smile on their faces. Their heart doesn't dance. Because the aura of Success itself creates an environment where true Happiness doesn't bloom.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 17, 31

Q: What happens to those who never find peace?

A: There are some who don't even realize they are unhappy. They have achieved Success after Success and they are so busy protecting their wealth, empire, name and fame, that their life ends doing this. They breathe their last at a conference table or while meeting their bank manager and they don't even realize that somewhere down the line, they forgot to live doing the things they love. Such people end their life with a lot of Success around their tombstones, but no Happiness as they reach their grave.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 27-28

Q: How does Enlightenment bring ultimate peace?

A: Those who scale the third peak of Happiness live a blissful life of eternal tranquillity and bliss. The realization of the Truth of who we are liberates us from all misery and sorrow. When we realize we are not the body, we distance ourselves from the physical pain experienced by the body. When we realize that we are not the mind, we are liberated from all the miseries that the mind experiences — anger, fear, worry, jealousy, and hate. The third peak transcends ignorance to a state of Nirvana or everlasting peace and eternal joy.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 58, 104

Q: How does surrender lead to peace?

A: I live like a free bird, flying in the sky, without any desire or expectation, living in surrender and acceptance of the Cosmic Divine Will. I live life moment by moment, each moment so blissful and peaceful that I feel completely liberated from the cosmic illusion of this world. Every time we live in acceptance rather than expectation, peace flows naturally. This constant expectation in Success makes Success a failure in acquiring Happiness. But in being Happy, we don't expect, we accept. Therefore, there are no disappointments, no misery, and sorrow.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 90, 106

Q: What is the connection between contentment and peace?

A: People on the second peak of Happiness learn that Happiness is built on a foundation of peace and tranquillity and they choose to exchange their pleasure for peace. To live a Happy life, they build a connection with the Universal Power as they live with love and laughter, liberated from worldly possessions. Most important, they focus on a life of positive emotions. They live with faith, hope, enthusiasm, love, confidence, eliminating anger, worry, fear, hate and jealousy. To them, true Happiness is living with tranquillity and peace.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 53-54

Q: What does a truly peaceful person look like?

A: If we look around, we can distinctly see two types of people. The first type of people are Happy — they live enjoying the moment, laughing, talking, eating, playing and even working. The other kind of people are miserable — they are angry about what has happened or are worrying about what is going to happen. We can't see a smile on their faces, just as we can see joy on the faces of the Happy ones. We may see many successful people around us, but they need not necessarily be Happy. Truly Happy people look peaceful.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 62

Q: Why does seeking peace never require success?

A: The whole world is chasing Success and achievement because they want to be Happy. In this pursuit of joy, we try to make money, achieve goals, fall in love, travel the world and become a star. But if we are already Happy, then we can be in that state of peace and joy without going on a mad chase to become an ace. That's why it is called a rat race, because in the end, even if we win, we are only a rat seeking more cheese, unhappy and discontent. But instead, if we are blissful and peaceful, then we are already successful.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 71-72

Q: How does the story of the millionaire at the airport reflect lack of peace?

A: At an airport check-in counter, a very rich man fumed and screamed because the boarding was closed. He was late and the aeroplane doors were closed. His ego couldn't accept that though he was such a rich and successful man, his request was turned down. I noticed that two young men had also missed the same flight. But they were laughing and looking at other options to reach their destination. They were not as rich as the screaming man, but to me, they were happier and therefore, wealthier. Peace cannot be bought with Success.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 63

Q: What is the path from pleasure to peace?

A: The most important evolution is to grow from Happiness that comes from achievement to a state of being content. This evolution can make one transcend from pleasure to peace. After noteworthy Success, those who are fortunate to realize that Happiness is not about climbing a peak, but rather being peaceful and blissful, resign to a life of Contentment, being fully satisfied and fulfilled. They learn that Happiness is built on a foundation of peace and tranquillity and they choose to exchange their pleasure for peace. True Happiness is built on a foundation of peace.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 50, 53, 100

TOPIC 5: THE THREE PEAKS OF HAPPINESS

Q: What are the three peaks of happiness?

A: Happiness is an evolving journey. The first peak of Happiness is Achievement — commonly referred to as Success or victory. The second peak of Happiness is Fulfilment, which comes from contentment after noteworthy Success. People on this peak live a life of fulfillment. The third peak is Liberation or Enlightenment — a peak of eternal peace and everlasting joy where misery and sorrow don't exist. On this third peak one realizes that we are not the body or mind. The moment we realize the Truth that we are Energy, not the body or mind, we are liberated from pain and sorrow.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 50-58, 60

Q: What is the first peak of happiness?

A: To a common man, the first peak of Happiness is Achievement, commonly referred to as Success or victory. It is not always in monetary terms, but people generally become Happy with a sense of achievement. To most of humanity, this is the only peak of Happiness they know of. People on this journey to the first peak are so blindly passionate about their Success and achievement that Happiness becomes synonymous with achievement. They don't realize that Success is not Happiness. In fact, they become ruled by their greed rather than their need.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 51-52

Q: How does one move from the first peak to the second peak?

A: A very few, less than 20% of humanity, get out of the race and chase. They overcome their greed and try to be content, fulfilling their need. This minority takes an exit from the first peak of Happiness — Achievement — and moves towards the second peak. Normally, such people who have been on the first peak of Achievement have realized that there is no peak called Happiness. One has to transcend from Achievement to Contentment. The first peak of Happiness is an illusion. So instead of trying to climb further in a mad race for more Success, they take an exit to a plateau of peace and joy.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 52-53

Q: What is the second peak of happiness?

A: The second peak of Happiness is Fulfilment. People on this peak live a life of fulfillment that comes from contentment. After noteworthy Success, those who are fortunate to realize that Happiness is not about climbing a peak, but rather being peaceful and blissful, resign to a life of Contentment. They learn that Happiness is built on a foundation of peace and tranquillity. To live a Happy life, they build a connection with the Universal Power as they live with love and laughter, liberated from worldly possessions. They spend time making a difference rather than just making money.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 53-54

Q: What is the third peak of happiness?

A: The third peak is called Liberation or Enlightenment. It is Liberation from misery and sorrow. The moment we realize the Truth that we are Energy, not the body that we seem to be, we are free from suffering caused by pain in the physical body and the misery and sorrow that follows. More important than transcending the pain of the physical body, Liberation or Enlightenment eradicates the misery of the mind, leading us to a blissful life without sorrow. Those who scale the third peak of Happiness live a blissful life of eternal tranquillity and bliss.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 57-59

Q: Why do only a few people reach the third peak?

A: Very few amongst them, less than 1% of humanity, realize that there is a third peak of Happiness — a peak that is beyond the first peak of Achievement and the second peak of Fulfilment — a peak that knows no misery and sorrow. Not many people pursue this ultimate peak of Happiness. Why? It is because of their own mind. The mind does not want us to transcend and evolve to the third peak because by doing that, the mind itself is destroyed. This is the ultimate Happiness peak.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 55-56

Q: How did the author discover making a difference creates greater happiness than making money?

A: As I achieved Success after Success and enjoyed my achievements, I realized that Success created a lot of excitement, but it was not really making me Happy. My new formula was — don't just make money, make a difference. From the money I earned, I started serving the poor. I used to make food packets and distribute them on the streets to the homeless and the hungry and this gave me tremendous joy. It gave me more Happiness than my Success and achievement. I then learned a simple fact — Happiness doesn't come from making money, it comes from spending it.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 49

Q: What is the experience of those on the second peak of happiness?

A: People on the second peak of Happiness, Fulfilment, are far happier as they are in a blissful and peaceful state. Their Happiness is greater than those pursuing the first peak. They are inspired by life and they live with joy and laughter, spending time smiling at others and enjoying the journey rather than zooming to a destination. They spend time loving people and living their dreams. Their Happiness comes from making others Happy. However, they too experience the pain of the body and misery of the mind, which is transcended only at the third peak.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 55

Q: What is enlightenment about?

A: On a quest for the third peak, seekers realize that though we have a body, we are not the body and though we seem to have a mind, we are not the mind. The moment we realize that we are not the body, we don't suffer the physical pain of the body, as we detach ourselves from it. More importantly, we are liberated from the miseries of the mind by activating our intellect. One has to use the intellect to transcend ME — the Mind and Ego — which are illusions and which stop us from realizing the third and ultimate peak.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 56-57

Q: How did Gautam Buddha evolve through the peaks of happiness?

A: People like Gautam Buddha analyzed life and were awakened to the reality. He observed that the world is full of suffering and ultimately, everyone has to grow old, experience disease and decay and finally, die. He advocated that the goal of life was Nirvana or liberation from death and the afterlife. While Buddha, a Hindu prince was enlightened with the Truth, evolving directly from the first peak to the third peak of Happiness, normal mortals would find it easier to go via the second peak.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 56

Q: Why does the author say happiness is an evolving journey?

A: Unlike what most people believe, Happiness is a journey, not a destination. We evolve in our Happiness journey, first as we grow from kids to adults and then again as we climb the peak of Happiness. For a poor man, a meal is Happiness, but not for a rich man. He has too much food and doesn't know what to do with it. We evolve as human beings depending on so many factors. However, the most important evolution is to grow from Happiness that comes from achievement to a state of being content.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 50

Q: What did the author experience on the third peak of happiness?

A: My quest made me realize the third and ultimate peak of Happiness, Liberation or Enlightenment. The realization of the Truth of who we are liberates us from all misery and sorrow. When we realize we are not the body, we distance ourselves from the physical pain experienced by the body. When we realize that we are not the mind, we are liberated from all the miseries that the mind experiences — anger, fear, worry, jealousy, and hate. I was blessed with the realization of the Truth. I was enlightened to know who I truly was and what my purpose is.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 104

Q: What does happiness on the first peak feel like compared to the higher peaks?

A: Happiness is an evolving journey. On the first peak, man experiences a combination of loss and gain, joy and pain. Their life is like a yo-yo, going up and down. Every individual who is trying to climb the peak of achievement experiences both valleys and peaks on the terrain of life. On the second peak, they are in a blissful and peaceful state, far happier than those on the first peak. On the third peak, one realizes Truths about life which makes them by far, the happiest people in the world. Special note — Success does not create this Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 52, 55, 59

Q: What lessons did the author learn from the author's happiness journey?

A: I have been fortunate to spend 25 years being Happy with Achievement, where I experienced the yo-yo of winning and losing, the ups and downs. Thereafter, I made the decision to exit the world of Achievement, and I was lucky to have found the second peak, Fulfilment, where I lived in peace for about 8 years. I am also so grateful that I realized the third and ultimate peak of Happiness, Liberation or Enlightenment. All this has made me not just the happiest man on earth, but it has eliminated all sorrow, misery, and agony from my life. I live a fearless life.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 105

Q: What does life look like after reaching the third peak?

A: I live like a free bird, flying in the sky, without any desire or expectation, living in surrender and acceptance of the Cosmic Divine Will. I live life moment by moment, each moment so blissful and peaceful. I have transcended anger, hate, jealousy and revenge and all the other negative emotions that create stress, misery, and anxiety. I live a life of everlasting joy and eternal peace. Even today, as I cross my 52nd year and am young and capable enough to start a big business, I refuse all such offers and suggestions because I have left that peak of Success and achievement far behind.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 105-106

TOPIC 6: LIVING IN THE NOW

Q: Why is happiness only possible in the present moment?

A: Happiness is all about being in the NOW. Can we go back to the moment that has gone and be Happy? We very well know that we cannot go back to the past moment. Can we at least go to the next moment and be Happy? Impossible! We can be Happy in the next moment only when it arrives. Therefore, the only possibility of being Happy is being Happy in the present moment, being Happy in the NOW! We don't need to be successful every moment to live every moment with Joy. But we can choose to be Happy every moment and thus make every moment successful.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 61, 63

Q: What does it mean to live moment by moment?

A: People don't realize that Happiness is all about being Happy moment by moment. 'The moment' is a gift. That is why it is called 'the present'. If we let the present moment pass without joy, then we have lost a great opportunity. If we lose the present moment, worrying about the next one, again, we are killing the opportunity of being Happy. While people are planning and scheming of ways to be Happy, what they don't realize is that unless they enjoy the planning, they will never enjoy the Happiness journey. Unfortunately, they think of Happiness as the destination, while in reality, it is the journey itself.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 63-64

Q: How does clinging to the past destroy present happiness?

A: Can you change the past? Nobody can! But we can definitely ruin the present moment thinking of the misery of the past. Unfortunately, many people don't let go of their hurts. They nurse them, curse them and rehearse them. If only they reversed them and started afresh, the past would be soon forgotten. Why let the misery of the past destroy our present Happiness? We should not cling to our miseries as they will only bring agony into our life.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 66

Q: How does anxiety about the future destroy happiness?

A: When we are anxious about the future, not only do we fail, but we destroy every moment of Happiness on the way. In our anxiety to achieve a final moment of Happiness, we lose hundreds of moments in fear and worry. David was a cricketer who failed to make the team because he was very anxious. His fear destroyed both his self-confidence and his skill. He was so unhappy practising because he was worrying all the time. His fear of rejection actually made him lose. When his dad replaced his fear with faith, focusing on the game, David made it to the team.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 66-67

Q: Why is the present moment called a gift?

A: Isn't it true that Happiness is about NOW? Whether we are enjoying a beautiful sunrise or sunset, or an amazing meal at our favourite restaurant, or spending time with friends that make us laugh, Happiness is about NOW. Even if we are watching a video of the past, it is about being Happy NOW. 'The moment' is a gift. That is why it is called 'the present'. If we let the present moment pass without joy, then we have failed. Those who are unable to be conscious of the present, or don't know how to smile every moment that passes, deprive themselves of the richest wealth — Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 67, 70

Q: Do we need success to be happy in every moment?

A: We don't need Success every moment to smile. Of course we don't! It is a myth to believe that we need Success to be Happy. Yes, it's great to be an achiever, who says it is not? But to believe that only achievers are Happy people is a lie. We don't need proof of this. We can see for ourselves that Happiness can come without Success. If we learn to be joyous in every moment as it passes, realizing the secret of being Happy in the NOW, we can still work on our Success, but give more priority to our Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 68

Q: What is happiness as an art and a skill?

A: Happiness is an art, just as it is a skill. An art of enjoying the present moment and skill of being in the NOW. Those who are unable to be conscious of the present, or don't know how to smile every moment that passes, deprive themselves of the richest wealth — Happiness. Many people live life like a pendulum. They only enjoy occasional moments of Happiness. They don't discover a way to be Happy all the time. If only they realized that Happiness happens moment by moment, they would not spend so much time in agony.

SOurce: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 67, 65

Q: Who are the truly happy people?

A: If we look around, we can distinctly see two types of people. The first type of people are Happy — they live enjoying the moment, laughing, talking, eating, playing and even working. The other kind of people are miserable — they are angry about what has happened or are worrying about what is going to happen. We can't see a smile on their faces, just as we can see joy on the faces of the Happy ones. Therefore, truly Happy people look Happy. We may see many successful people around us, but they need not necessarily be Happy.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 62

Q: How does regret of the past make us miserable?

A: The mind goes to the past and creates regret, shame and guilt with its thoughts that nurse, curse and rehearse the incidents and wrongs of the past. We lose our peace. Typical human beings live like pendulums — they swing into the past and live with regrets. They nurse, curse, and rehearse their hurts, although they can do nothing about it. The past is gone. It can't be changed. Still, people live in the past with stress and anxiety. We should not cling to our miseries as they will only bring agony into our life.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 44, 66

Q: Is there a secret to being happy all the time?

A: After all, it doesn't take too much to be Happy, and if we are committed to it, we can be Happy no matter what. Instead of enjoying the blowing of the breeze, the swaying of the trees and the waves in the seas, we want to be a millionaire to be Happy. There may be excitement in making a million, but it creates more stress than joy. If we learn to be joyous in every moment as it passes, realizing the secret of being Happy in the NOW, we can still work on our Success, but give more priority to our Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 68, 76

Q: How does life lived like a pendulum rob us of happiness?

A: Many people live life like a pendulum. They swing from the past to the future and only enjoy occasional moments of Happiness. They have not discovered a way to be Happy all the time. Robert was a millionaire who celebrated Success throwing parties and displaying his wealth. But most of his life was miserable, including planning for the parties. Even after the party, his agony continued. Robert's Happiness was like a pendulum swinging from unhappiness at one end to misery at the other, with some moments of excitement in between.

source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 64-65, 70

Q: What is FEAR as described in the book?

A: They live with FEAR. It is nothing but False Expectations Appearing Real. They confuse their imaginary fears to be real dangers and worry endlessly. What does this swinging like a pendulum do? It steals our Happiness and robs our smile. This problem of worry, stress, and anxiety seems to be one of the world's biggest medical hazards and it has a simple remedy — to smile, laugh and be Happy! When we are anxious about the future, we destroy every moment of Happiness on the way.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 44

Q: Can we enjoy planning for the future and still be happy now?

A: We can become Happy planning for our 50th birthday which is going to happen next year, but we can't go to that day — it's just not possible. Either we can have fun now planning for it, or we can be miserable worrying about the bills we will have to pay next year. Therefore, Happiness is an art, just as it is a skill. An art of enjoying the present moment and skill of being in the NOW. If we let the present moment pass without joy, then we have failed.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 67-68

Q: What does it mean to make every moment successful?

A: We don't need to be successful every moment to live every moment with Joy. But we can choose to be Happy every moment and thus make every moment successful. Happiness is all about the moment, being Happy in this moment. People don't realize that Happiness is all about being Happy moment by moment. 'The moment' is a gift. That is why it is called 'the present'. If we let the present moment pass without joy, then we have lost a great opportunity. If we lose the present moment worrying about the next one, again, we are killing the opportunity of being Happy.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 63

Q: What is the richest wealth according to the book?

A: Those who are unable to be conscious of the present, or don't know how to smile every moment that passes, deprive themselves of the richest wealth — Happiness. Happiness is the richest wealth a human being can have. It is magical because it costs nothing, but if you give it to somebody, it can make them smile in return. I know of people who do not have much money in the bank, but they are smile-millionaires. They always smile and are happier than many who are wealthier than them in material terms.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 43, 70

TOPIC 7: CONTENTMENT AND FULFILLMENT

Q: What is contentment and why does it lead to happiness?

A: While successful people are ruled by their greed, the ones who are content are satisfied with the fulfillment of their needs and they enjoy peace that is far more fulfilling than the pleasure Success delivers. Happy are those who are content with their achievement. The truly successful people in the world are those achievers who are also Happy. If Success is surrounded by worry, stress, envy, hate, and jealousy, how could such Success create Happiness? People with little Success have tons of Happiness, just as people who have tons of Success live with little peace and joy.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 15

Q: How did the author find greater joy through making a difference?

A: As I had made a lot of money in my Success journey, I started serving the poor. I used to go out in the night and distribute food packets to the homeless and the poor on the streets. On cold winter nights, I would take blankets and cover those lying on the pavement. This gave me tremendous joy and fulfillment, far more than what my Success and money gave me. Of course, making money made me Happy, but making a difference to the poor and needy gave me peace and joy that surpassed the Happiness from achievement.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 99

Q: What is the secret — making money or spending it?

A: From the money I earned, I started serving the poor and this gave me tremendous joy. It gave me more Happiness than my Success and achievement. This puzzled me. How is it possible that I could be happier making a difference, rather than making money? I then learned a simple fact — Happiness doesn't come from making money, it comes from spending it. Most people are doing otherwise. We earn and earn only for others to burn what we earn. Should we not rather spend before our end and put a smile on people's face, living with grace?

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 49, 100

Q: What is the life of the person on the second peak of fulfillment?

A: People on the second peak of Happiness, Fulfilment, live with love and laughter, liberated from worldly possessions and from being overly attached to people. To them, freedom is far more valuable than money in the bank. They are inspired by life and they live with joy and laughter, spending time smiling at others and enjoying the journey rather than zooming to a destination. They spend time loving people and living their dreams. Their Happiness comes from making others Happy as they spend their time making a difference rather than just making money.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 53-54

Q: What is real Happiness beyond achievement?

A: Real Happiness is beyond achievement. It is contentment and fulfillment. The richest man in the world is not the happiest man. There are people who may not be so wealthy financially, but they are happier than the millionaires. This reverses the belief — it is the Happiest man who is truly the Richest man. Yes, true wealth doesn't lie in the achievements and monetary gains but in the Happiness quotient of a person's life. Instead of chasing Success to be Happy, we should try to be Happy. That is true Success.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 6

Q: How does fulfillment differ from mere pleasure?

A: The most important evolution is to grow from Happiness that comes from achievement to a state of being content. This evolution can make one transcend from pleasure to peace. People on this second peak of Happiness, Fulfilment, are far happier as they are in a blissful and peaceful state. Their Happiness is greater than those pursuing the first peak of Happiness — Achievement. Compare somebody whose life is content and fulfilled. They have no desires or cravings. They have no greed and they have fulfilled their need. Their life is full of peace and Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 50, 55, 77

Q: When is a person truly the richest?

A: I felt like I was the happiest man in the world. I learned something very profound. The richest man is not the happiest man, the happiest man is the richest man. True Happiness is beyond achievement. It is contentment and fulfillment. There are people who may not be so wealthy financially, but they are happier than the millionaires. This reverses the belief — it is the Happiest man who is truly the Richest man. Yes, true wealth doesn't lie in the achievements and monetary gains but in the Happiness quotient of a person's life.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 6, 100

Q: How did the author transform from making money to making a difference?

A: I transformed my life. I shut down my business at 40 and started doing H.I.S. work — Humanitarian, Inspirational and Spiritual work. Making a difference gave me greater Happiness than making money did. I wrote my first book — 'I wanna be Happy', as I inspired people to do what they love and love what they do. We built charitable homes and medical centres to reach out to the poorest of the poorest. We picked people who were suffering on the streets, helped cure them and put them back on their feet. Every selfless action created peace, joy, and bliss.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 99-100

Q: Is there a boredom on the second peak of happiness?

A: People on the second peak of Happiness, Fulfilment, are far happier as they are in a blissful and peaceful state. However, they too experience the pain of the body and misery of the mind. They can, sometimes, get a little bored on this peaceful plateau, the second peak of Happiness, Fulfilment. Very few amongst them, less than 1% of humanity, realize that there is a third peak of Happiness — a peak that is beyond the first peak of Achievement and the second peak of Fulfilment — a peak that knows no misery and sorrow.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 55

Q: What is the difference between needs and wants?

A: The ones who are content are satisfied with the fulfillment of their needs and they enjoy peace that is far more fulfilling than the pleasure Success delivers. First, man enjoyed fulfilling his needs. It gave him tremendous Happiness. But then, greed became his master and his own desires flogged him to achieve Success one after the other. Those who are on the second peak live a life of fulfillment that comes from contentment. They have overcome their greed and try to be content, fulfilling their need. This minority takes an exit from the first peak and moves towards the second peak.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 15, 26, 53

Q: Can we be happy without being successful?

A: The whole world is chasing Success and achievement because they want to be Happy. But if we are already Happy, then we can be in that state of peace and joy without going on a mad chase to become an ace. The fisherman was already Happy. He didn't want to spend his entire life like the rich businessman. He found his Happiness effortlessly and he was far more peaceful and blissful. We go through our entire life trying to become successful and Happy rather than just being Happy. We don't need to waste our time and energy chasing Success if we can choose to be content.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 72, 74

Q: What positive emotions characterize a fulfilled person?

A: Most important, people on the second peak focus on a life of positive emotions. They live with faith, hope, enthusiasm, love, confidence, eliminating anger, worry, fear, hate and jealousy amongst others. To them, true Happiness is living with tranquillity and peace. They live moment by moment, not regretting the past and worrying about the future. Their philosophy is that Happiness is the journey. There is no Destination called Happiness. They spend time loving people and living their dreams. Their Happiness comes from making others Happy.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 54

Q: How does the author's story inspire us to embrace contentment?

A: I shut down my business, stopped making money and transformed my life. Earlier, people knew me as one of the most successful entrepreneurs in the country, but that no longer mattered to me. I wanted to be blissful and peaceful, not just successful. I discovered the second peak of Happiness, Fulfilment, that was based on being fully content and satisfied and my life journey evolved just as my Happiness did, creating everlasting joy and eternal peace. I realized that true Happiness came to me from a different source — from making a difference, not just making money.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 100-101

Q: What is the plateau of the second peak like?

A: As I transformed my life from achievement to contentment and fulfillment, I thought I had reached the second and final peak of Happiness. No doubt, my life was full of bliss, joy, fun, laughter, and enthusiasm. But somehow, there was something missing. I travelled to a hundred new countries to discover the beautiful world that God has made and I was so content, so fulfilled, making a difference each day and spending the money I had earned on a worthy cause. However, my mentor provoked me to go on a quest and a search for something beyond this plateau called Fulfilment.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 101-102

Q: Why is the second peak called a plateau rather than a peak?

A: The second peak of Happiness is Fulfilment. In fact, it is not a peak. It is a plateau, but because we have to climb to it, we refer to it as the second peak. People on this peak live a life of fulfillment that comes from contentment. Normally, such people who have been on the first peak of Achievement have realized that there is no peak called Happiness. One has to transcend from Achievement to Contentment. So instead of trying to climb further in a mad race for more Success, they take an exit to a plateau of peace and joy.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 53

TOPIC 8: IGNORANCE AND REALIZATION

Q: Why does man live in ignorance about success and happiness?

A: Man lives in ignorance. There are several Truths that man doesn't realize, and thus man suffers. Man thinks he is the body and suffers physical pain. Man thinks he is the mind, and with it, he worries and wanders. He swings from the past to the future, living with anxiety and fear. Why? Because he is ignorant. Likewise, man lives in ignorance believing that Success is Happiness. He spends his entire life trying to be successful, but he experiences a combination of joy and sorrow as he goes through loss and gain, in a life that has sunshine and rain.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 87

Q: What is the biggest illusion humanity lives with?

A: The illusion — 'Success = Happiness.' In reality, the belief that Success equals Happiness is an illusion. No doubt Success creates a sense of gratification that makes us Happy. But an in-depth analysis will reveal that we were already Happy in the first place. The desire for Success creates agitation and the achievement of that desire takes us back to our original state of peace and bliss. Somehow, we believe that without Success there is no Happiness. This is a myth, an illusion. In fact, the desire for Success can create misery when the goal is not achieved.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 6

Q: What realization changed the author's entire life?

A: I went into the mountains with a few questions about birth and death; about God and enlightenment and about the Soul and rebirth. I wanted to find out the true purpose of life. After spending a few years retreating in the mountains, I realized some Truths that transformed my life completely. I realized that we are not this body, although we have a body. Although we seem to have a mind, we are not the mind. We are the Divine Soul, the Life Energy that gives breath and without which there is death. I realized that I was not Ravi V. Melwani — that was just my name.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 103

Q: How does ignorance keep humanity trapped in the pursuit of success?

A: Man is blind. He doesn't want to accept that Success is not Happiness. He still wants to succeed to be Happy. He can choose 'to be' in a state of peace and joy, without madly running after Success. But he doesn't! Like a mad man, he chases his achievements, hoping that they will give him eternal peace and bliss. But they don't. Man lives and dies in this ignorance. A man on his death bed said, 'If only I had spent my life being Happy rather than pursuing Success, I would have died a happier man.'

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 87-88

Q: What does it mean that we are not the body or the mind?

A: On a quest for the third peak, seekers realize that though we have a body, we are not the body and though we seem to have a mind, we are not the mind. The moment we realize that we are not the body, we don't suffer the physical pain of the body, as we detach ourselves from it. Even science endorses that the human body which seems to be blood, skin, and bones is, in reality, trillions of energy particles that appear as the gross physical body. More importantly, we are liberated from the miseries of the mind by activating our intellect.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 56-57

Q: Why is it shocking to realize success doesn't create happiness?

A: If one introspects and contemplates what Success is, we will realize that Success is not Happiness. This realization should be the biggest shock of our lives. We always thought that we must be successful because that will make us Happy. But now, we know that we don't need Success to be Happy. Then why waste our entire life chasing Success? People go to school to acquire skills and go to university to become a master in a subject that will make them successful only to be Happy. But this entire effort has no assurance of Happiness.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 83-84

Q: How can cosmic illusion hijack our intellect?

A: Somehow, a cosmic illusion hijacks our intellect and through its power, holds us at gunpoint, making us seek Success and achievement. It casts a shadow of ignorance on us, such that something as simple as this escapes our attention. We can be Happy without being successful, but rather, we choose to be successful and miss being Happy. Is that what we want? Of course not! We want to be Happy. Then why are we chasing something that doesn't promise Happiness? Why are we not being Happy instead, which is the very objective of Success?

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 89

Q: What truth did the king's story reveal about happiness?

A: In ancient India, a powerful and wealthy king who had everything — power, money, respect, palaces, gold — was still unhappy. He tried to speak to several sages and wise men on how he could be Happy, but he couldn't find an answer. Finally, he found a man in the forest who was content, blissful, and satisfied with only 2 shirts. When the king asked his secret, the man explained: 'I am fully content and satisfied. I seek nothing — that is my secret. You are seeking something all the time. This time, you are seeking Happiness, that is why you are unhappy.'

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 91-92

Q: What is Enlightenment as described in the book?

A: The third peak is called Liberation or Enlightenment. It is Liberation from misery and sorrow. It is Enlightenment, the eradicating of the ignorance that we live with, as the light of realization dawns on us. This realization created a metamorphosis in my life. It also made me realize the third and ultimate peak of Happiness, a peak of Happiness that has nothing beyond. I called the third peak Liberation or Enlightenment. The realization of the Truth of who we are liberates us from all misery and sorrow, giving us everlasting peace and eternal joy.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 57, 103-104

Q: What is the Truth that must be realized?

A: Isn't it time to stop and to realize the Truth. Should we zoom from womb to tomb, chasing Success or should we live moment by moment in peace, bliss, and joy? Can we carry our Success with us after death? Don't we know we come empty handed and we go empty-handed? Our life is a gift and lasts just for a few decades. The goal of life is to be Happy, not successful. We keep seeking Happiness outside when it lies within us. We search for external Success when the reward of such Success — 'Peace and Joy' — lies within us, in our heart and Soul.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 88, 94

Q: Is it ever too late to realize the truth about happiness?

A: Recently, a man on his death bed in a hospital said, 'If only I had spent my life being Happy rather than pursuing Success, I would have died a happier man.' Another old lady told me, 'If I had my life to live over, I would stop to watch more sunsets, climb more mountains, play more tennis. I would spend more time with the people I love and playing the piano which gives me joy. If only I had my life to live all over again, I would spend my time doing the things that make me Happy, not just succeeding in my career making money. But unfortunately, I can't! My life is nearly over.'

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 87-88

Q: Why should we seek to be happy rather than successful?

A: This is the advice from the sages and the wise men of this world. We should rather choose to be Happy than successful. Happiness is guaranteed Success, but Success doesn't guarantee Happiness. We can be Happy without being successful, but rather, we choose to be successful and miss being Happy. Instead of making Success our goal, should we not make Happiness the goal? And it's not so difficult to be Happy if we realize that by living joyously moment by moment, we can be Happy. Isn't it time to switch over?

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 89-90

Q: How does realizing we are energy change our experience of life?

A: The moment we realize the Truth that we are Energy, not the body that we seem to be, we are free from suffering caused by pain in the physical body and the misery and sorrow that follows. Even science endorses that the human body which seems to be blood, skin, and bones is, in reality, trillions of energy particles that appear as the gross physical body. We need to realize this Truth. More important than transcending the pain of the physical body, Liberation or Enlightenment eradicates the misery of the mind, leading us to a blissful life without sorrow.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 57-58

Q: What is the purpose of life according to this book?

A: Our life is a gift and lasts just for a few decades. The goal of life is to be Happy, not successful. Unfortunately, because we live believing the myth that Success is Happiness, we spend our entire life chasing Success. We live and die like the musk deer. In the Himalayas, this deer is seen roaming in pursuit of the musk fragrance. This fragrance actually comes from within its own navel. Happiness is within us. We can enjoy eternal peace and everlasting joy, realizing the Truth. Isn't it time to realize the Truth?

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 93-94

Q: How does one change the paradigm from success to happiness?

A: It's time for us to realize the Truth. Instead of chasing Success to be Happy, we should try to be Happy. That is true Success. Those reading this for the first time may think that it is just a tongue twister. It's not! It's a principle that humanity must learn. Do we want to be like a successful tycoon who is unable to sleep at night? Do we want to be one amongst those achievers who end their life in suicide? Would we prefer to live with millions in the bank but also have stress, worry, and anxiety or would we choose peace and tranquillity along with Happiness?

☐ Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 6-7

TOPIC 9: MIND, EGO, AND LIBERATION

Q: What role does the mind play in destroying happiness?

A: The mind with its toxic thoughts continues to drill us and kill us and destroys our peace. The moment we still the mind, peace, we can find. Where there is a piece of mind, there can be no peace of mind because the mind is bombarding us with a thought every second. There is a rascal, a thief, called the mind. When the mind appears, it brings with it fear, worry, stress, anxiety, regret, shame and guilt. This aggression of toxic thoughts leads us into depression. The mind goes to the past and creates regret, and jumps to tomorrow and creates stress, worry and anxiety.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 87 (referenced), About Book 'The Mind is a Rascal' Page 119

Q: What is the ego and how does it cause suffering?

A: One has to use the intellect to transcend ME — the Mind and Ego — which are illusions and which stop us from realizing the third and ultimate peak of Happiness. Man thinks he is the body and suffers physical pain. Man thinks he is the mind, and with it, he worries and wanders. The ego couldn't accept that though he was such a rich and successful man, his request was turned down. The mind does not want us to transcend and evolve to the third peak because by doing that, the mind itself is destroyed.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 56, 63

Q: How does the intellect help overcome the mind?

A: We are liberated from the miseries of the mind by activating our intellect. The intellect is that part of the subtle body which is often misunderstood to be a part of the mind, but it is not. In fact, one has to use the intellect to transcend ME — the Mind and Ego — which are illusions and which stop us from realizing the third and ultimate peak. What is this peak? The third peak is called Liberation or Enlightenment. It is Liberation from misery and sorrow. It is Enlightenment, the eradicating of the ignorance that we live with, as the light of realization dawns on us.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 57

Q: What are the negative emotions of the mind?

A: The mind, generally, lives with regrets and frustrations of the past, as it experiences fear of the future. It also remains miserable with negative emotions like anger, hate, jealousy, revenge, stress, and anxiety. All this makes our life so full of misery and sorrow. The realization that we are not the mind leads us to the third peak as we are enlightened with the Truth and are thus liberated from these prisons of misery and sorrow. The third peak transcends the ignorance that we are the body that suffers and the mind that languishes in regrets and fears.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 57-58

Q: What is liberation from the mind?

A: Liberation or Enlightenment eradicates the misery of the mind, leading us to a blissful life without sorrow. When we realize that we are not the mind, we are liberated from all the miseries that the mind experiences — anger, fear, worry, jealousy, and hate. I live a fearless life, with no regrets of the past, or worries of the future. I have transcended anger, hate, jealousy and revenge and all the other negative emotions that create stress, misery, and anxiety. I live a life of everlasting joy and eternal peace.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 58, 105

Q: How does the mind keep us from transcending to the third peak?

A: Not many people pursue this ultimate peak of Happiness. Why? It is because of their own mind. The mind does not want us to transcend and evolve to the third peak because by doing that, the mind itself is destroyed. Man lives in ignorance. He swings from the past to the future, living with anxiety and fear. Man is blind. He doesn't want to accept that Success is not Happiness. Like a mad man, he chases his achievements, hoping that they will give him eternal peace and bliss. But they don't. Man lives and dies in this ignorance.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 56, 87

Q: What does it mean to transcend the body and mind?

A: The moment we realize the Truth that we are Energy, not the body that we seem to be, we are free from suffering caused by pain in the physical body. Even science endorses that the human body which seems to be blood, skin, and bones is, in reality, trillions of energy particles that appear as the gross physical body. The moment we realize that we are not the body, we don't suffer the physical pain of the body, as we detach ourselves from it. Those who scale the third peak of Happiness, live a blissful life of eternal tranquillity and bliss.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 57-59

Q: What is the meaning of 'AiR' and how did the author's realization change him?

A: I realized that we are not this body, although we have a body. Although we seem to have a mind, we are not the mind. We are the Divine Soul, the Life Energy that gives breath and without which there is death. I realized that I was not Ravi V. Melwani — that was just my name. I was the Soul or Atman in Ravi and thus I changed my name to AiR. This realization created a metamorphosis in my life, a second and permanent transformation. It also made me realize the third and ultimate peak of Happiness, a peak of Happiness that has nothing beyond.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 103

Q: Is there life after achieving liberation?

A: After the third peak, then what... I have been fortunate to spend 25 years being Happy with Achievement, 8 years on the plateau of Fulfilment, and then reached the third peak of Liberation or Enlightenment. All this has eliminated all sorrow, misery, and agony from my life. I live like a free bird, flying in the sky, without any desire or expectation, living in surrender and acceptance of the Cosmic Divine Will. While I live a life of Yoga, in union with the Divine, I still can't escape from action. I live blissfully and peacefully, enjoying every moment of life.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 104-106

Q: What is Nirvana or Ananda?

A: May this book inspire you to let go of the passion for Success, as you aspire to evolve and transcend the peaks of Happiness, till you are liberated from all misery and sorrow, with the realization of the Truth. Then you too can live in Nirvana, in Ananda, a state of ecstasy, joy, bliss, and peace, unknown to common man. Those who scale the third peak of Happiness live a blissful life of eternal tranquillity and bliss. They realize several Truths about life which makes them by far, the happiest people in the world.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 58-59, 107

Q: What is a 'cosmic drama' and how does it relate to happiness?

A: Man lives in ignorance. He spends his entire life trying to be successful, but he experiences a combination of joy and sorrow as he goes through loss and gain, in a life that has sunshine and rain. Life itself is like a cosmic drama. The earth is a big stage, and we are all actors who come and go. There is no need to worry and cry till we die. If we understand the Truth, we can enjoy the show called life. Our life is a gift and lasts just for a few decades. The goal of life is to be Happy, not to be an actor consumed by the drama.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 87, 93 (referencing 'A Cosmic Drama')

Q: Can we escape from action even after enlightenment?

A: While my life is all about devotion and meditation, I spend hours learning and on educating myself, which can lead me into action as an instrument of the Divine, with just one mission — to help people realize the Truth. I have no goals, no desires as I know I do nothing. I just live blissfully and peacefully, enjoying every moment of life. At this point, it should be clear that it does not mean that a person should sit under a tree and do nothing. Every living being has to act, and there is nothing wrong in achieving noteworthy Success.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 79, 106

Q: How does living as an instrument of the Divine transform one's life?

A: I metamorphosed to AiR and gave up my entire life as RVM and started living as an instrument of God doing His Divine Will. This led to several realizations that formed my new mission of life — to help people Realize the Truth. Since then, AiR's life has been dedicated to reaching out and helping people to eradicate the ignorance that we live in. Truth is Truth but our mind does not realize that. I live like a free bird, flying in the sky, without any desire or expectation, living in surrender and acceptance of the Cosmic Divine Will.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 106, 115

Q: Why is the mind described as a rascal?

A: The mind goes to the past and creates regret, shame and guilt with its thoughts that nurse, curse and rehearse the incidents and wrongs of the past. We lose our peace. Then the mind jumps to tomorrow and creates stress, worry and anxiety. Immediately, any peace that we enjoy will cease because of our own mind. Man thinks he is the mind and with it, he worries and wanders. The mind does not want us to transcend and evolve to the third peak because by doing that, the mind itself is destroyed. The mind is indeed a rascal — it is our enemy.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 87, 56

Q: What is the ultimate purpose of human life?

A: Our life is a gift and lasts just for a few decades. The goal of life is to be Happy, not successful. What will happen to us after we die? Who created this universe? How can we be Happy all the time? These are questions which we are ignorant about. My own life journey is a testimony of the Truth — Success is not Happiness, Happiness is Success. I have dedicated my life to helping people realize the Truth and achieve the ultimate peak of Happiness, Liberation or Enlightenment, where everlasting peace and eternal joy reside.

Source: Success is Not Happiness, Happiness is Success by AiR — Page 93, 108, 115